THE BIG SPLASH

On a snowy evening in March, members of the class of '85 anxiously gathered to enjoy the annual splash party held at the Holiday Inn.

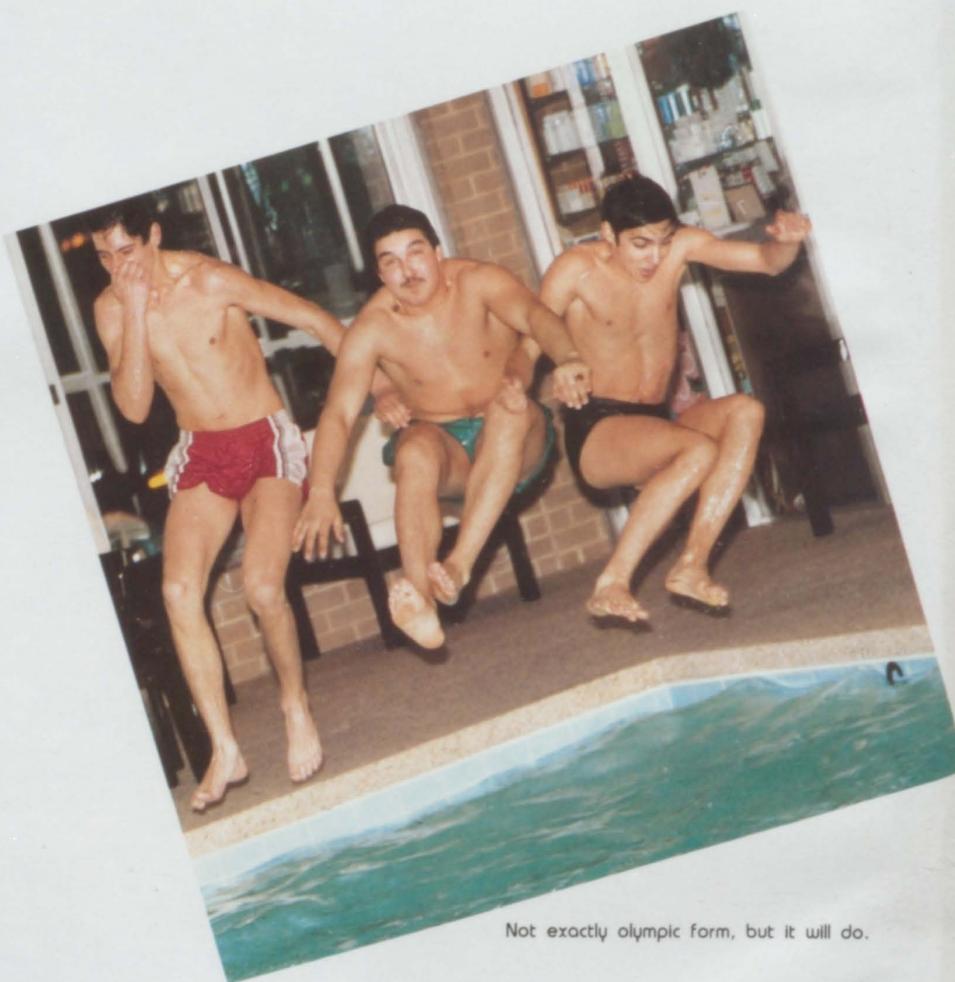

After socializing and relaxing, the fun began. Junior President Sergio Dos Santos and class Vice President John Cunha demonstrated their breaking and bee-bop talents.

In addition, swimming relays between teachers and students were held. Those who participated were Mr. Andraous, Mr. Duggan, Mr. Wagner and Ms. Werner along with students Alex Franco, Brian Fallon and Ted Silva. They were all enthusiastically cheered on.

After these fun times, the pool area quickly cleared when the hot and cold buffet was set up for all to enjoy.

Following these festivities it was eagerly back to the pool area with one "big splash" where you could take part in a series of activities such as volleyball, relay competitions, and just plain swimming.

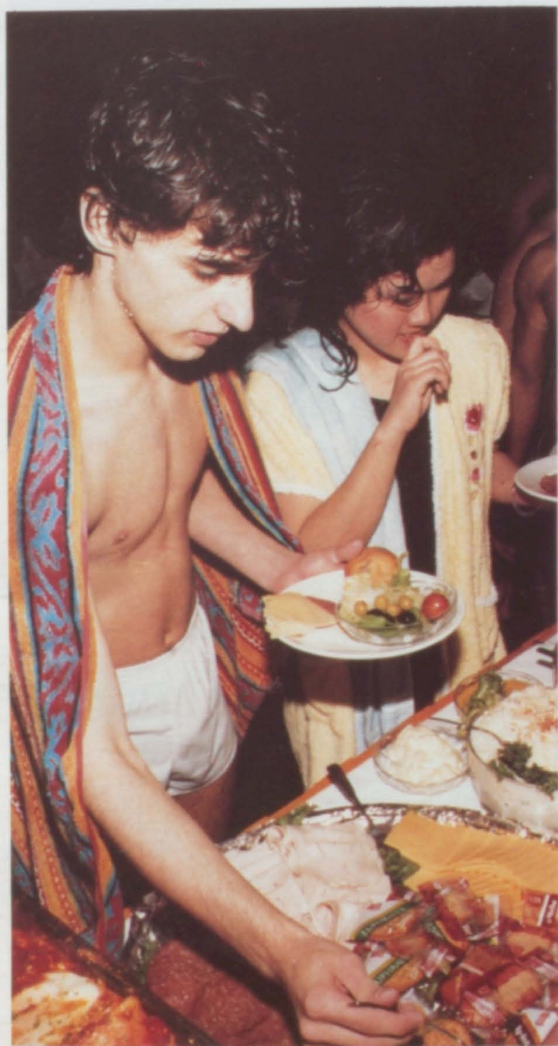

Towards the final hour of this winter paradise everyone warmed up and relaxed in the saunas before gathering their belongings and going out into the cold night air.

Not exactly olympic form, but it will do.

FRIENDS FOREVER

When we look back on our high school days, many fond memories will come back to us. In our thoughts we will relive days filled with fun and laughter, in addition to less joyful days clouded by discontent.

We will, of course, remember our teachers, the subjects we studied, and the activities we participated in. However, a certain part of our high school life will have a special place in our memories. That certain factor is friendship.

Friendship is not something that is carried out only throughout our four years at East Side, but something that we will experience for the rest of our lives. It not only means having companions, but it also pertains to the caring and sharing and helping of one another.

It is taking time off to share our opinions and talents with others.

Who will ever forget the class comedian who told us those funny jokes in homeroom which helped us to start the day, or the lab partners who lent us a helping hand in preparing that experiment for Mr. Andraous. With whom but our friends could we have endured cold football games and strenuous exam schedules?

Those who attended our afternoon and evening socials will never forget the music of D.J. Freddy Freak.

Friendship is the companionship we receive from those friends who are very special to us, and the richness of our experiences together. We are lucky to be able to say that friendship is alive and well at East Side and continues to grow more evident every day.

It is difficult to imagine not having our friends to cheer our triumphs, and stand by us, especially in our defeats. A difficult struggle is made easier by the helping hand and warm smile of a friend.

Friendship is an extraordinary bond shared by human beings. It is a willingness to give of oneself in return for the love and understanding of another person. Friends have a certain way of communicating, of understanding so well one another's feelings and ideas that words are not always necessary in conveying their thoughts. As Henry David Thoreau so well put it:

"The language of friendship is not words, but meanings. It is an intelligence above language."

Are you kidding? That will never work.

Friends share more than emotions.

Pedro Sousa, In a lively discussion regarding the quality of food being served at lunch time

Jose's unique style is evident throughout his entire performance.

Special abilities in the Rappin' category are exhibited by Mark Irby and Chris Ellis.

'BREAKIN' FOR GINA

On February 23rd, 1984 the spirit of friendship was in evidence at East Side as students participated in an activity which proved to be enjoyable for them as well as helpful for a special little person.

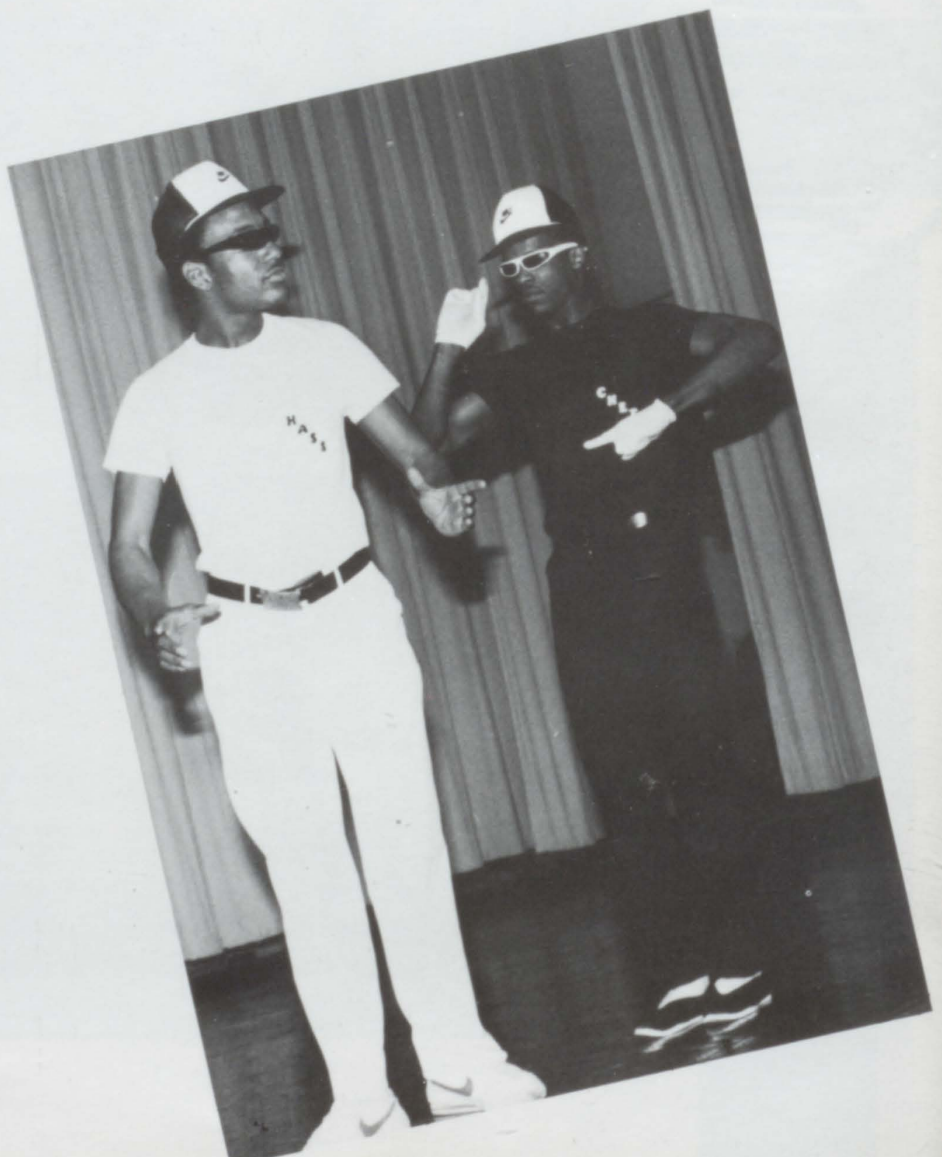

This activity was the break dance contest in which East Siders exhibited their talent in break dancin, rappin, and electric boogie.

This contest was organized to help Gina Ardito, our special friend who needed an operation.

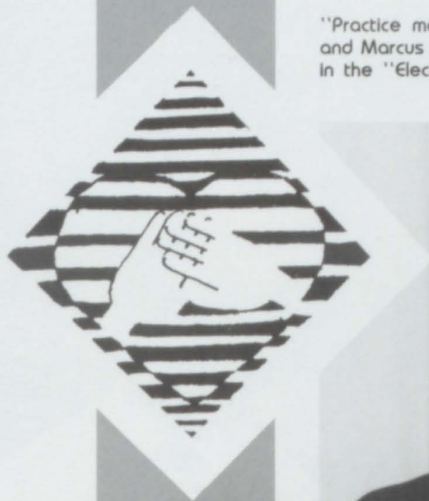

Contestants were judged by D.J.'s from the local radio stations. The winners in the electric boogie were Chester Williams and Marcus Irby, while Marvin Huey and Cedrik Honeyblue won the "M.C." award. Jose Hernandez, Lisette Montalvo, and Edison Rodriguez received awards in the "breakin" category.

The breakdance contest will be remembered by all as a result of what can happen when a group of caring people combine friendship with hard work and effort in order to bring joy into the life of someone special.

By successfully combining their efforts and talents, Chester Williams and Mark Irby give an award-winning performance.

"Practice makes perfect" - as Chester Williams and Marcus Irby discover after winning first place in the "Electric Boogie" category.

His impressive style and ability help Angelo Sanchez deliver a great performance.

Contestants in the category of Electric Boogie, Lee Brown and Paul Shelly express their unique talents throughout their performance.

O n Thursday April 12th 1984, more than 170 special guests from the Clifford Street Senior Citizens Club assembled at East Side High School for the first Annual luncheon held in their honor. This idea was first brought to the attention of the Student Council by Mr. Martin, Vice-Principal.

The day began with a grand welcome from East Side's Marching Band. The honored guests were escorted to the gymnasium where they were entertained by various clubs and members of the student body. They were, then, ushered into the very Spring-like decorated all-purpose room, for a sumptuous luncheon catered by cafeteria chef, Mr. Roberts. During the luncheon, a raffle was conducted by members of the Student Council. The grand prize was a gourmet food basket.

During these festivities, Mrs. Cardiello, school Principal, expressed her thanks to the guests for attending this special occasion and for sharing with us the pleasure of their company.

The luncheon proved to be a very memorable event for everyone involved. It was the first of many such luncheons to come and a fine way of showing East Side's pride, concern, and friendship for the community.

A special presentation.

Ready to go!

Perfection is the word of the day.

The days rain had whitewashed the air and as the night descended, the stars twinkled and the moon glowed overhead.

This warm Spring night seemed to be the perfect prelude for the Junior Prom, "A Night In Heaven."

On May 4th, 1984, the Portuguese Pavillion was the scene for this gala evening.

Hand in hand, sharply dressed and smiling, couples began a night that would prove to be no less than perfect.

Hellos were given, hugs and kisses exchanged, as friends entered the pavillion determined to make this event a very special "Night In Heaven."

A variety of appetizing dishes, with tantalizing aromas, was served to all and gave pleasure even to the most discriminating taste buds.

Freddy Freak, our evening D.J., played the newest hits as well as the softest melodies for everyone's pleasure.

The class of '85 will remember "A Night In Heaven" with thoughts of friendship, good food and music, and lasting memories.

All the right moves.

REFLECTIONS

The music was loud, the crowd was excited, and the clothes and models were "hot".

"Reflections", as the fashion show was entitled, took the audience through a nostalgic tour of music and fashion from the roaring twenties to the rocking eighties.

The show consisted of evening wear, casual wear, and, the ever popular, swim attire. The various outfits emphasized freedom and comfort with the "baggy-look".

Intertwined with the fashion show was great musical entertainment. These sections were highlighted by the "appearances" of the Andrew Sisters, Taco, Simon and Garfunkel, and the Culture Club.

Mario Santos was able to swone the crowd with his portrayal of Camilo Sesto, but the program's climax was reached by Danny Jackson who appeared as Michael Jackson. Danny's performance had the audience, on its feet, yelling for more.

The crowd applauded as the cast took its bows, ending the program and giving both spectators and participants something to reflect upon in the years to come.

Academics

The academic program at East Side provides us with the opportunity to learn, to pursue, and to prepare for the future.

The various courses of study gives us the chance to develop valuable skills and practical knowledge which is essential for our growth and development in this fast-paced world.

We will long remember those interesting lectures in Psychology, those challenging problems in Calculus, those picturesque stories in History, and those fascinating Shakespearian Plays in English.

These courses and many more have helped us gain the background information necessary in order for us to make knowledgeable career decisions.

East Side High, with its diverse curriculum, strives very hard to fulfill the needs of its students.

CALCULATIONS AND

For those who enjoy the challenge of solving an algebraic equation or completing an intricate physics experiment, East Side has provided each student with opportunities to do such assignments while continuing to expand their interests.

The math department with its friendly and very competent teachers make any type of math class more than just mere lines and angles. These courses trigger our interest and knowledge of numbers and their importance in our ever changing world.

We learn how digits can come together to solve questions and help formulate new ideas.

Whether math majors or not, we can not forget Mrs. Salagaj's Algebra classes and her ability in making numbers come alive or the interesting discussions on angles in Mr. Trimarco's Geometry class and the sleepless nights doing homework for Mrs. DiPiazza's period 3 Calculus; these will always stand out in our minds as interesting and challenging experiences.

For those who wish to mix chemicals and experiment with different formulas the physics and chemistry labs offer much opportunity.

Remember the day we had to dissect the frog in Ms. Gonnelli's Biology class, one true "scientist" would do the operation while friends held their noses and squirmed?

In physics lab we share the work and carefully boil the water to the correct temperature to complete experiment #26, Mr. King's favorite, and we listen with interest as Mr. Andraous lectures on Newton's Laws and the nature of acceleration.

In our math and science classes we are given the chance to become a mad scientist, research assistant, chemical engineer, and computer analyst even if it is only for a short 45 minutes each day.

Designers and Writers

A challenging still life to capture on canvass.

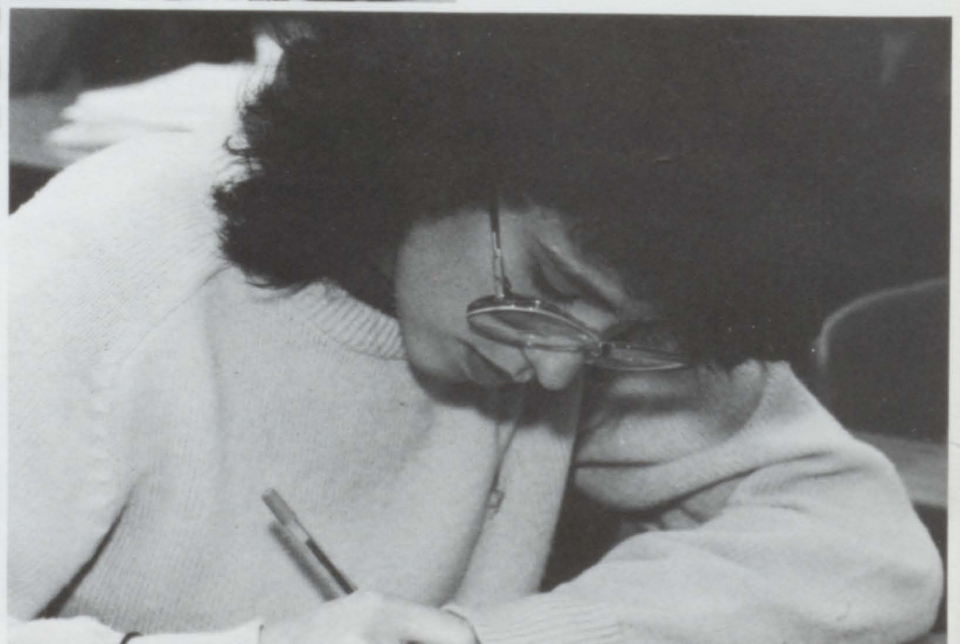

There are certain times in our lives when we wish to develop our talents and we begin to explore the available options which will enable us to do so.

For those of us who are artistically talented, we find enjoyment in the various art classes. There, we are able, with the help of our teachers, to express our unique skills and develop our abilities. We may enter our drawings and paintings in contests, such as the Newark Brotherhood Poster Contest, Newark Project Pride, and Newark Teen Arts.

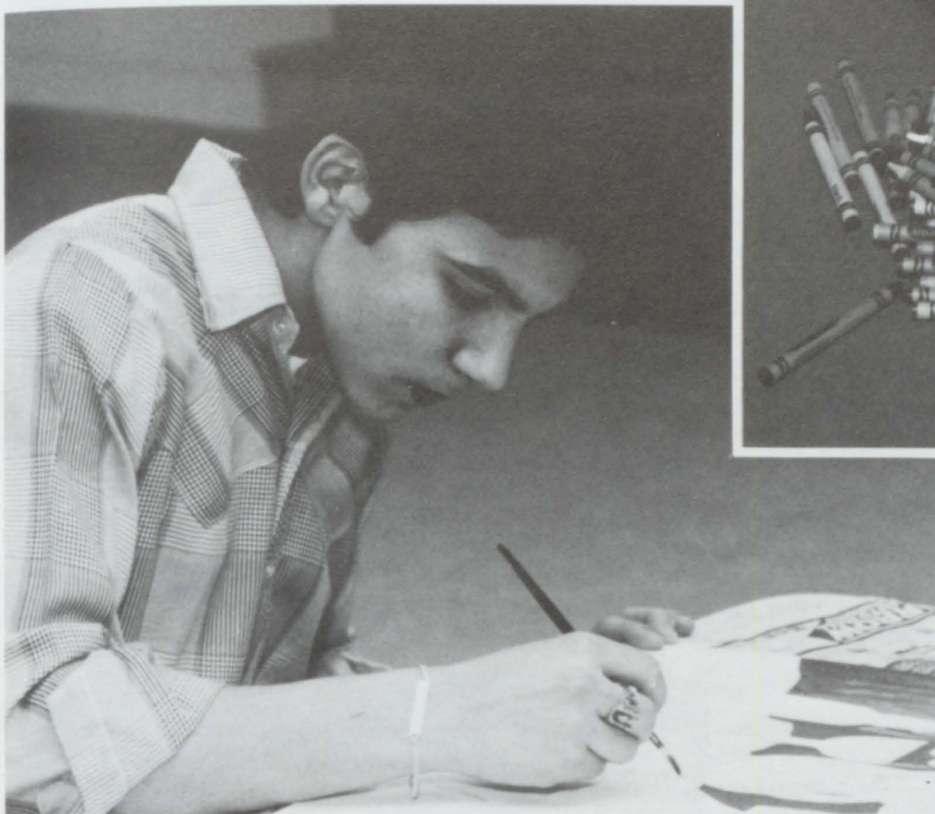

In our English classes, we are given the opportunity to explore a different world - that of literature and creative writing. Through reading books by such famous authors as John Steinbeck, Arthur Miller, Ernest Hemingway, and William Shakespeare, we are able to broaden our views and ideas on different subjects.

In addition, our English classes help us to improve our writing skills. This becomes useful when we decide to express our thoughts and opinions by participating in essay contests like the V.F.W.'s Voice of Democracy, the Newark Brotherhood writing competition, and the Optimist Oratorical Contest.

It is without a doubt that these classes play an important part in our high school life.

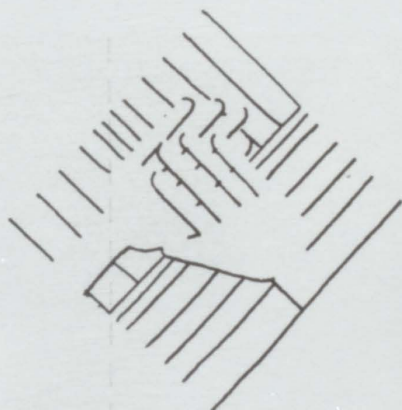

Notes, notes and more notes

Wednesday Is . . .

Signs can really be confusing.

Today is Wednesday, so it is gym day. We will go to the lockerroom and change into our gym suits. We may do some aerobics or play a game of softball. Maybe we will play badminton; this sport is entertaining for everyone, including Ms. Brown, our coach.

The boys will most likely go outside to the park to run, so we can have the use of the entire gym. The class will split into four teams. Our team will serve first today. Nilda Dominguez goes to the back court to serve; she throws the birdie into the air, she swings the racket, and . . . That's the bell . . .

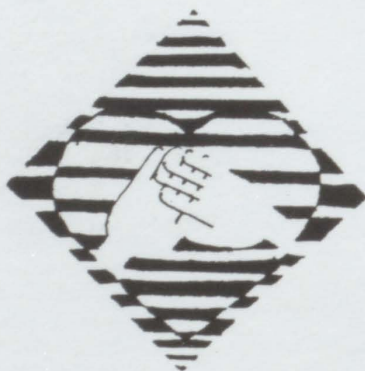

Tomorrow our health class will be in session. We are going to have a test on chapter eight of the Driver's Manual. We will have to take our notes home to study. Everyone is anxious to obtain their driver's license, so they study hard to pass the test in health class. As the final exam, we will be given the standard driver's test consisting of 50 questions.

We have to pass this test in order to receive our permit. After this, we will be able to take our driving test to get our license. To prepare ourselves, we are reviewing the specific areas that will appear on the exam.

Rosangela Costa and Dina Furfaro have already received their license, but most of us are waiting . . . patiently.

The gym classes provide us a time for recreation as well as for physical fitness. Maybe that is why the classes always seem to go by quickly. The driver's education classes, on the other hand have been a great help for everyone hoping to obtain a license. Besides providing us with the knowledge needed to get our license, we are able to receive a lower rate of insurance by taking this course.

Well, here we are at the gym. We are going to play badminton after all. We better suit up and it's off to play ball!

Sports

East Side High is known to have some of the best teams in the city of Newark. Our teams have continuously won championships, broken school records, and developed some of the best sportsmen ever. We have cheered many of our undefeated teams such as baseball, soccer, and tennis. Our outstanding athletes have always brought a sense of pride and school spirit to each challenging game, and we in turn have tasted the dignity of winning.

It is from this experience that we learn the value of teamwork and the meaning of sportsmanship which we will always treasure.

A Short Season

It's the ninth inning, the bases are loaded and the spectators anxiously await to see the outcome of another Red Raider baseball game.

Every spring faithful East Siders go out to see our competent baseball team strive to accomplish an unforgettable season. Unfortunately, this season was one of the shortest ever; twelve games were cancelled due to inclement weather and never rescheduled. Yet team members like John Marques, Angelo Sanchez, Carlos Cruz, Raynaldo Fuentes, Michael Scelfo, and Charlie De Almeida enthusiastically step up to bat ready to bring victory to East Side.

The season ended with a record of 7-10, six of the losses by only one run. Every game, however, proved to be a delight to watch. Who can forget the time E.S. played against Union, one of the top teams in the state? Despite the outcome, E.S. demonstrated their best playing techniques and put up a fight till the last inning.

Disappointed about the brief season but content with the results, Coach Blasi looks forward to the return of Jose Alvarado, Herlander Amorim, Frank Hernandez, Wellington Zamora and Tony Texeira.

Whether it's running to catch pop-ups, driving in a run, sliding head first into base or lining another single, the baseball team does it with determination and pride. This makes any fan proud that they come out to the ball game.

A perfect pitch.

Richard Simons would be proud. One down, two down.

Striving for Perfection

The '84 team consisted of new and inexperienced players. Although their overall record wasn't spectacular, 1-1-15, their coach, Ms. Werner, stated that it wasn't a reflection of their potential or ability. They were a very dedicated team, always trying to improve on their next game and never giving up. Their most exciting game was against M.X. Shabazz High. This was a well seasoned team, composed of upperclassmen, but in the second inning East Side brought in 5 runs and 4 RBI's.

Senior Ana Matos came to the team in her junior year, determined to do well. As she continued to improve, she earned herself a regular position as third baseman. Despite the fact that she was injured, she continued to play and help set the pace for the rest of the team.

As for the rest of the team, they had a lot of practice in the field and will be returning next season.

The 1984 golf team followed the previous year's outstanding season. The team completed their games with 10 wins and 3 losses. They also earned a second place rating in the Tournament Play.

Under the guidance of Coach Cutrino, these dedicated sportsmen have achieved a second place in the City League as well.

One of our present seniors, Lee Brown was an exceptional player. His remarkable performances have led the team to many unforgettable victories. "This is fun," he said, "The toughest thing about success is that you've got to keep on being a success." "Winning breeds more winning, you learn how to win by winning. As long as I'm prepared, I always expect to win."

We congratulate all members of the golf team for playing so well. Many members of the team will be returning and making golf an even stronger sport at East Side.

Make Ready

The tennis team used part of this past year as their training time for the up coming season. Most of the team was made up of novices.

Despite their inexperience, these new players showed a tremendous amount of dedication, spirit and potential. In the '84 matches they captured 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th place in the Newark City Novice Championship and finished the season with a record of 7-3. Coach Alexander gave her team great confidence all through the Spring and was very impressed with their efforts, performances and determination.

Followers of the sport will be looking forward for the team to become a dominant force in tennis once again. Surely this will be another bright moment in the tender life of this young team.

Taking Part

The winning tradition continued for the Track Team with a record of 11-1, placing 2nd in the City Championships and 3rd in the County Championships. The outstanding seniors were Jose Barros, Lina Beirao, and Francisco Dos Santos. All three started their running career as freshmen under the coaching of Mr. Dickerson and Mr. Duggan.

The distance teams were ranked among the top five in the state. In addition to regular season meets, the team also participated in races held in Washington, D.C., Connecticut, and the Penn Relays in Philadelphia. These races provided outside competition from states such as New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. Members of the boys' team are Jose Barros, Francisco Dos Santos, Manny Santos, Paulo Gomes, and Paulo Santos. These excellent runners received various trophies for their outstanding ability in winning the numerous races. The sprint team, consisting of underclassmen, established themselves as the premier mile relayers in the county. The job of the sprint team is to run the short distances such as 200 meters, the ¼ mile and the ½ mile. They are Julio Rivera, Jimmy Taylor, Joao Paulo Sousa, Todd Williams, and Alberto Ruis.

The girls' team also consisting of underclassmen with the exception of one senior, Lina Beirao, proved that they too had the potential of being champions. They trained alongside the boys to improve their timing and increase their speed. They are Rosa Domingues, Lina Beirao, Annie Resende, Ana Cravo, Maria Resende, Robin Kunz, and Evelyn Maldonado.

A special thanks to coaches Dickerson and Duggan whos strenuous workouts and dedication to the team, proved to be extremely valuable throughout this championship season.

A Good Season

We're getting better! The football team with all its spirit and determination ended their season with a record of 3-6. An accomplishment that took much hard work and practice.

Our defense performed exceptionally well and our offensive line proved to be stronger than ever. Throughout the season, our team almost tasted victory. As in the case of the Vailsburg game when we lost 0-2 on a safety. Who can forget the thrilling Jamesburg game when we came so close to defeating them. The score was 15-20, Jamesburg led. It's the second down and the ball is on the one yard line. Suddenly the time ran out and East Side faced a loss.

They never gave up. The next week they came out more determined than ever; ready to bring victory to East Side as they defeated West Side, for the second consecutive year, with a score of 24-8. Two weeks later, they grasped another victory. This time against Barringer whom East Side had not beaten in eleven years.

Who are these athletes who exemplify so much dedication, enthusiasm, desire and hard work? The team was headed by several seniors such as Michael Lalley who's skill has led to the success of this season. Chester Williams, a four year veteran, played better than ever while John Marques proved a tough obstacle to the opposing team. Quarterback Kyro Inman proved to be a great player with his terrific skills and effort. Adding to the talent on the field are seniors Victor Cruz, Edward Do Carmo, Charlie De Almeida and Jose Meijas. Showing great spirit, Herlander Amorim, linebacker and punter, hung in tough as he did his part in attaining this promising season.

Coach DeFrancesco was pleased with the outcome of the season. "It's been a good season; we've shown alot of improvement and we'll continue to do so".

City Champs

The soccer team ended their season with a City Wide Championship as well as an impressive record. The team which consists of mostly new members, only three players returning from '83, attained a 12-1-6 season to show for all their hard work and dedication.

Their playing was dramatic and impressive. They were ready to demonstrate their skill and tact on any field. Every game proved to be exciting as East Side dominated the field with their solid offensive and defensive line. So it was in the Vailsburg game as E.S., demonstrating all their talents, grasped the City Championship.

Fans cannot help but cheer for this terrific team which is composed of so many talented players. The team was headed by several seniors. Mario Santos, a two year varsity player, who is an aggressive player and attempts to score goal after goal for his team. Freddy Cruz and Carlos Cunas both demonstrate tremendous ball control while playing as John Espirito Santo plays the field with tremendous skill. John Figueiredo, defenseman, is a sure and secure player who proves an obstacle to opposing players. Freddy Cruz has been a varsity player only a year but has scored various goals leading the team to its numerous victories. Accompanying the terrific skills of these seniors are captain Manny Silva, an all-round player and Tony Figueiredo who with sixteen goals is the team's highest scorer.

Coach Neves is very proud of his team and once again awaits another city title for East Side.

Taking It All

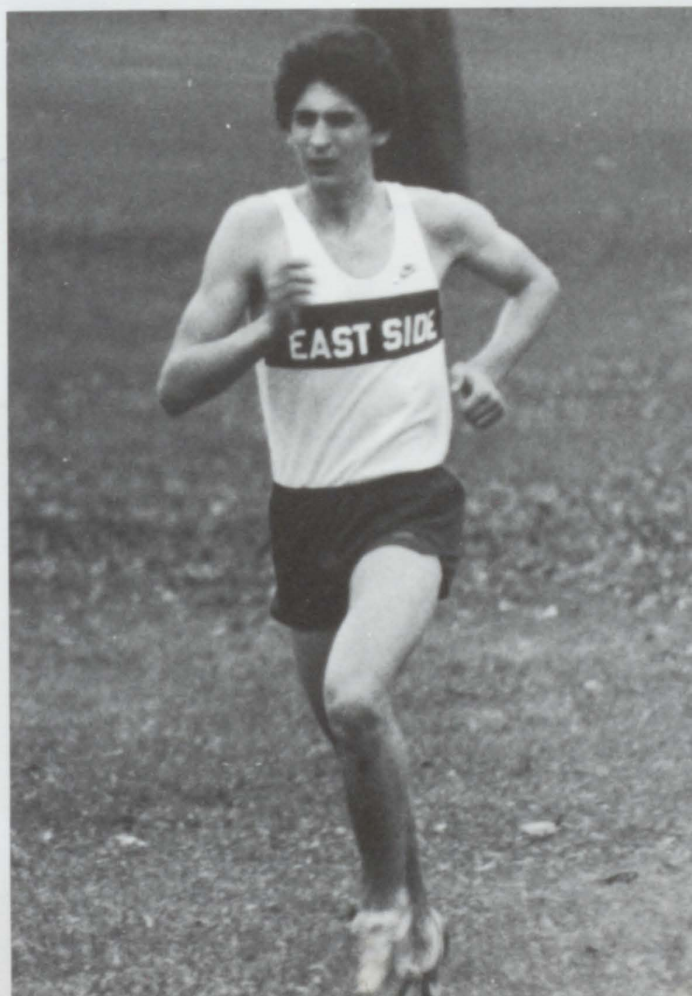

The '84 Cross Country team had an outstanding season. As one member of the team said, "We were determined to prove that we can be the best", and that they proved. They are the first team in the city of Newark to capture the city, county, and state championships. Led by seniors Jose Barros, Frank Dos Santos, and Lina Beirao, they finished the season with an undefeated record of 11-0. In addition, they also won the Shore Coaches Championship, Spin-Garn Invitational held in Washington, D.C., and at the Meet of Champions, the boys placed seventh and the girls placed sixth.

The team was made up of many outstanding runners such as junior Rosa Domingues; 1st in the State Sectionals and City Championship, senior Jose Barros; 2nd in the City Championships, junior Manny Santos; 1st in the County Championships, and senior Lina Beirao; 2nd in the City Championships, and many more.

Thanks to the coaching of Mr. Dickerson, the team has produced another year of championship for East Side. Congratulations and many more victories.

Striving For Success

The boys' basketball team ended their season with an impressive record of 14 wins, 9 losses; the best record since 1976. They placed 4th in the City League, won five games with more than a 20 point lead, and 8 of their losses were by 6 points or less.

Throughout the season, the team experienced several exceptional games as in the case of the upset win over Central. East Side was down by 7 points at halftime but with determination they came back and defeated Central by 1 point in overtime.

The team consisted of several extremely talented seniors. Kevin Miller, an exceptional player is the top scorer as well as the best free thrower. Daren Hicks has the best shooting percentage as well as being the top rebounder. Chester Williams is outstanding at drawing the charge while Harvey McCray's hustle proved to be an inspiration to all.

Coach Duggan, Ass't Coach Gould and all the players are proud of their successful season.

The girls' team, led by seniors, Linda Johnson, Carrie Ross, and Sulisa Honeyblue, attained a 1 win 13 loss record, despite all their hard work and effort.

The last game proved to be a heart breaking loss to Arts High School in overtime with a score of 58 to 57. Prospects for next year seem bright with the return of Fawn Ross, Teri Robinson, Rosetta Grace, Crystal Norres, Rhonda Napier, Elleen Molina, Judy Cruz, Rose Raymond, Keer Bruley, Wanda Ramos and Tanya Bishop.

Champs Again

Brilliant performance; brilliant season! Not only was our Hockey team advanced to Division "A" competition, but they also managed to win the Division Championship. They demonstrated utmost perfection both as a team and as individuals. But to become champions, much practice was a necessity. Several hours were put into practice at the Ironbound Stadium both by the players and by the coaches.

Seniors Michael Lalley, Anthony Tonzola, and Eddie Borger scored goal after goal for the team. Eddie Borger, Michael Lalley, and juniors Ron Blozen and Carlos Rodriguez were selected for the All-State Team. Michael Lalley is the state's 5th ranked scorer and Ron Blozen the 3rd ranked.

Over all, the team placed 18th in the state, winning the Handchen Cup against St. Peter's Prep. This was the first year of this championship. With such fine athletes it is no wonder that this is the second year that East Side's Hockey Team won the city title.

Better Than Ever

The taste of victory seems to linger about the Indoor Track team year after year. This season was extraordinary; old boundaries were broken and new records were set. Under the watchful eye of Coach Dickerson, the team strived for constant improvement and consequently obtained it.

Their season consisted of 22 meets during which they won numerous events and titles. Their times for the boys and girls mile relays, distance medleys, and two-mile relays were the best East Side has experienced during the previous ten years.

Senior Jose Barros experienced a thrilling year as he captured the Group IV 800 meter State Champ Title. His time of 1:55 placed him in the top performers list of 1985. Jose, who has been a member of the Track-Team, for four years, says that "running is his love and it is worth all the pain and hard work."

Another outstanding achievement was made when the Boys Mile Relay placed 3rd in the Group IV Championship as well.

The glory of victory does not only belong with the boys teams.

Rosa Domingues made sure of this as she captured the group IV two-mile State Champ title with her time of 11:17, a new East Side record. The success does not end there as the Girls Two-Mile Relay, consisting of Rosa Domingues, Lina Beirao, Ana Cravo and anchor person Annie Resende, ranked 3rd in New Jersey.

This boys and girls team is made up of one victory after another. Every individual however has endured much pain, hard work and frustration to achieve such a tremendous season. The glory is theirs for they have earned it. As Coach Dickerson often tells his teams, "No pain, no gain."

Clubs / Activities

When we complain of having a lot of free time on our hands and not having enough to do, we may be urged by someone to, "Join a club!"

A club not only offers us something useful to do but it gives us a sense of pride and accomplishment to know that we are working with other people to achieve a common goal. A club allows us to join our efforts and abilities with those of others in order to accomplish a special task.

At East Side, students are given a wide variety of clubs and activities to choose from. The Band or the Winterguard may be your preference if you wish to demonstrate your music abilities along with precision movements; these clubs also perform at special school functions, and the Winterguard has been involved in some very successful competitions.

Students may also wish to participate in the Portuguese and French Clubs, which offer a taste of foreign culture, and help students have a better understanding of foreign countries.

If your special enjoyment is writing, the Announcer and Torch staffs may be exactly what you are looking for.

These clubs allow you the chance to exhibit your writing and editing abilities, while at the same time help improve your writing skills.

These and the many other clubs offered at East Side are an enjoyable and worthwhile way for students to spend time with their friends.

Please — Be Prompt . . .

The purpose of the Aspira Club is to motivate Hispanic students to pursue a college education, and to make them aware of educational and career opportunities. Ms. Rodriguez the club advisor, plans college field trips as well as a visit to El Museo Del Barrio. Plans are under way for a members luncheon and end-of-year awards ceremonies.

In the Black Heritage Club, students discuss and read about the Afro-American experience in the United States. Ms. Young, club advisor, along with various members plan on celebrating such Afro-American holidays as the Kwanzaa Festival. The plans are under way for a dinner dance and awards assembly program.

The purpose of the Civics Club is to develop student pride and appreciation for both school and community.

The club is under the direction of Mr. Molinaro, has participated in many activities such as the Halloween Dance, Rock Night and numerous candy sales. The club has also contributed to many charities within the school and community. Plans for the annual dinner are underway where club members will be recognized for their many contributions and activities.

East Side has kept up with the latest technology in the growing field of computers. The Computer Math Club helps further the education of students in the area of computer science. Students are taught to make their own programs and video games. The students may enter their programs in various competitions such as the Montclair Computer Contest held at Montclair State every Spring.

The club plans a visit to various N.J. corporations to see computer facilities and how they work. Club awards are also planned for the most outstanding programs written.

... For The Meeting

An unofficial sport at East Side is weight lifting. Many people crowd into the weightroom on Thursday after school. People weightlift for various reasons, such as for sports or to get muscular. Mike Scelfo says he, "lifts to improve athletic ability especially for football, and appearance."

The National Honor Society is a very prestigious organization with a membership by honor students who must excel in such areas as Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service.

To become a member, students must meet many requirements.

On January 25, 1985, thirty-one students were inducted into the society. At the ceremony President, Ted Silva introduced the program and speaker.

Mrs. Giantamasi, Honor Society Adviser, introduced each of the inductees, who took part in the traditional candlelighting ceremony. A reception in the cafeteria followed.

Dungeons and Dragons is a unique club. It offers members the opportunity to role-play in a game setting. In this environment students learn about graphing and matrices.

As part of a fund raiser, Mr. Zenga, club advisor, along with club president, Michael Marra have made plans for a trip to Great Adventure.

The French Club was developed to familiarize students with the French language, culture and customs. Mrs. Castanheira, advisor, and Alda Xavier, club president, have plans for cake sales, parties, and participation in International Night. They are now practicing for the Can-Can which will be performed that night. Also under way are plans for a June picnic.

All Members Must Attend

The Jewelry Club is under the direction of Mr. Matrisciano who is very enthusiastic about the club. The main purpose of this club is to provide students with an understanding of various jewelry forms, methods of production and their relative value. The outcome of the jewelry they make such as rings and bracelets from spoons and other metal objects is special enough for them.

The Library club, is one of the more recent clubs to be organized, under the direction of our three media-center librarians. The members of this club help the librarians by checking books in and out, arranging books and shelving them. Many of the members give up their lunch and any free time to do so.

Because of their hard work, our Media-Center is very well organized.

The Horizon, provides a place where East Side students can display their expressive and artistic talents. The magazine includes prose, poetry, and artwork. Advised by Mrs. Caamano, the magazine put out its first issue in December 1984.

Editors-in-Chief Antonio Caetano and Gloria Gomez organized all material submitted. We all looked forward to the Spring issue.

Headed by Mrs. Duarte, the Portuguese Literary Magazine offers students the opportunity to express themselves in a most positive manner. The magazine has two issues a year, which contains poems, stories and prose written by the many gifted and talented students at East Side.

Mrs. Pellerito, advisor, plans to attend a journalism workshop at Rutgers with staff members in order to improve the paper.

The Portuguese Club will be celebrating its 15th Anniversary this year by giving a dinner for all members. The Portuguese club has grown and prospered over the years, under the direction of Mrs. Duarte.

They held a luncheon at the Manner, followed by a roller skating party. A Carnival was celebrated in February and plans for the picnic are in full force. The members of the Folklore dance group also participated in International Night. Two scholarships will be awarded outstanding members at the June picnic.

The difficult and somewhat expensive job of finding and buying just the right equipment completely enthalls diehard skiers. Every year the club sponsors a ski trip to Vermont where students enjoy displaying their talents and abilities. They hit the slopes as if they never had been away. Mr. Afflito, club advisor, is very enthusiastic about his club. The club not only has great ski trips but tries to develop a sense of responsibility and character.

The top priority of this club is to promote positive student attitudes toward environmental concerns through such sporting activities as fishing and camping. The club goes on various expeditions where they learn about the importance of a clean environment. We've Got Rhythm

"School Spirit" is what the members of the East Side Band have. They can turn an ordinary game into an exciting fun-filled event. Under the direction of Mr. Cleveland, band director, the band plays various types of music, from the latest hits to old time favorites.

At events such as the Columbus Day Parade, Portugal Day Parade, various football games or special celebrations as that given in honor of the Olympic Gold Medal winner Carlos Lopes, our band sparks excitement and enthusiasm from the crowd.

As Jackie Colon, a four year band member, said, "All the time spent after school and on Saturdays really pays off." The talented members have proven that through hard work and practice, every performance is dynamic.

Winterguard Makes A Big Splash

Although the organization of Winterguard is fairly new to our school it has accomplished much in its short three years. Our Winterguard program came into being when Dr. Gene Grant introduced the idea to our band front advisor, Mrs. Di Piazza. The first year was one of many adjustments; it gave the members the experience of competing against other schools and the knowledge that they could use in the future seasons.

Our second year proved to be one of great victories. We continually won the EMBA competitions and went on to win the Novice Division Championship with a record score of 76.4

This year, we were moved up to the Intermediate Division and, although the season has recently started, we expect to do extremely well, having already won the first show by a margin of five points. We also plan to participate in the Winterguard International Olympics in Dayton, Ohio.

The seniors on the guard are: Captain, Norma Ribeiro; in the flag line: Sergeant Renee Wolton and Deanna Revie; in the saber line: Sergeant Rosangela Costa, Ida D'Alessio, Debbie Pecora, and Rosa Cunha; and in the rifle line: Sergeant Julie Resende, co-sergeant Diane Lemos, Dina Furfaro, Paula Vieira, Nela Oliveira, and Renee Williams.

The directors and instructional staff are Dr. Grant, Mrs. D'Piazza, Mr. Hutcherson, Dr. Lingren, Keith Cornick, and Mel Hampton.

In addition to the strenuous practicing for the Winterguard competitions, the seniors have taken time out to enjoy the second Splash Party sponsored by the senior class. Once again, it was a big success; everyone had a wonderful time and liked the chance to swim with friends during the winter.

Yearbook In The Making

Can any of us forget 7:30 A.M. meetings? How about deadlines? How about the writing? Captions, captions, captions, "all pictures must have a caption." All of these things might dampen spirits but when the accomplishments start showing through it makes it all worthwhile. Everyone has a job to do, ranging from writing, rewriting, editing, typing, taking pictures, cropping pictures or submitting cover designs. Many ideas and opinions are changed, with brain-storming sessions leading to staff overtime. Before a deadline Room 363 bustles with great activity.

Dr. Pellegrino gives up countless hours to the staff supervising the many jobs as well as working along with us. Members and adviser alike often offered words of praise in support of a great idea, a special drawing, good cover designs or dynamite layouts. The going gets tough at times and the odds appear stacked against the staff, but the Torch '85 staff pulls together to produce yet another prize winner of a book. The yearbook staff thanks Dr. Pellegrino for making the class of '85's dream come true.

A Day of Knights

On Thursday, January 10, 1985 East Side's Media Center became the Kingdom of Eastland, as the students in Mrs. Matarazzo's Honors English IV and C.P. classes presented the eighth annual Medieval festival.

Guests were escorted to their seats to witness a procession of the various lords and ladies of the royal court of Eastland and to view "The Wedding", an original play about a Medieval romance written and directed by Ana Sanchez.

The play depicts an inevitable situation in the life of a Medieval princess. Princess Sophia, portrayed by Fernanda Cruz, is, by his father's wishes, to marry Prince Sebastian of Stratsburg, played by Joey Pereira, for the financial benefit of the kingdom. Sophia does not love Sebastian, but is instead devoted to James, portrayed by Jeff Prosetti, whom her father believes to be a landless knight not worthy of a royal princess.

It is later discovered that James is in reality the Prince of Delvia, and he challenges Sebastian for Sophia's hand in marriage. The play concludes with a spectacular duel between Sebastian and James, of which James is the victor, and therefore entitled to wed Sophia, whom he dearly loves.

After the play, a banquet of authentic Medieval foods prepared by the students was presented for everyone to sample. A photographer from the local paper captured some of our lords and ladies dressed in their regal attire on film, and their pictures appeared in the newspaper.

The Executive Coordinators of the festival, Patricia Luna and Ana Sanchez were happy to see that everyone's hard work and effort had paid off so well. In their opinion, the eighth annual Medieval festival will always be remembered as the result of hard work, cooperation, team effort, and friendship.

At Their Best

The Colorguard has been a special part of East Side for many years now, and this year they have been at their best, having placed first in the Novice Division. When East Siders watch them in their brightly colored uniforms performing routines which they themselves have organized and developed, we feel a sense of pride in knowing that our classmates have produced such a stunning example of a combination of much time, practice, and hard work.

Led by Julie Resende, captain, and Diane Lemos, co-captain, the Colorguard have spent many long hours perfecting their routines. When asked of the squad's progress, Julie proudly replied, "We've come a long way!"

Effort Leads To Success

The twirlers are a major part of every football game and parade in which they participate. It is up to them to add that extra spark to a performance, and to dazzle the crowd with their difficult routines. The East Side twirlers have proven that they are an exceptional group of people. Led by Norma Ribeiro, captain, and Rosangela Costa, co-captain, they have spent their spare time organizing and perfecting their routines.

Their hard work paid off in competition when they were awarded the Best Sabers trophy. It is without a doubt that our twirlers have set high standards which we hope all of the future East Side twirlers will live up to.

Norma Ribeiro, our captain, says "Practice makes perfect."

Talent Shines Through

At every East Side football game, one group of performers always show an enormous amount of school spirit. They are, of course, the cheerleaders who with their enthusiastic cheers for the team, are always hoping for a victorious game.

Their dedicated captain, Pam Shelton, believes that practice makes perfect, and she sees to it that the routines are organized with special care. The cheerleaders have proven through their performances at the games, that with hard work success can be achieved.

Whether it is at a football game, a parade, or in competition, the East Side Flag Squad never fails to exhibit a colorful display of a combination of talent and hard work. It is evident throughout their routines that the squad is made up of a group of dedicated members.

Captain Renee Wolton and co-captain Joanne Rodriguez are always determined that each performance should be a success. Much of their spare time is spent in originating the routines and in helping the girls on the squad to synchronize and perfect their movements. The time and effort devoted to the routines always leads to a magnificent performance.

Pamela Shelton, captain, has lots to cheer about, it's her senior year.

Here's the starting line-up as East Side's flags, twirlers, rifles, and cheerleaders get ready to perform.

Stepping Out

On November 1, 1984 a group of forty-nine friends and students visited two museums as part of our study of the Medieval Period in English Literature. Our first stop was at the Cloisters, located in Fort Tryon Park. This cloister resembles a medieval castle rather than a museum and contains hundreds of authentic artifacts. The second museum was the Metropolitan Museum of Art which had exhibits ranging from Egyptian Art to Medieval armor.

While there, some students visited the newly opened Van Gogh at Arles exhibit. There are many events to remember during our senior year. One that will especially be remembered is our trip to the various cultural places found in New York City.

In addition everyone enjoys attending a school dance and at East Side we have held many and varied types of dances.

The Halloween Dance was one of the more interesting because it gave us a chance to create the attire of our choice. Jorge Nolau was transformed into a punk rocker and Elisabeth Gomes into a mouse through the magic of make-up, wigs and colorful customs.

Rock Night took on a special enticement because of the terrific band Galaxy. They played a varied selection of favorite tunes.

During the course of the year, various clubs sponsored such dances as the New Beginning, Dancing in the Dark, and the Red Raider Jam. All these occasions have given us the chance to get together with our friends and have a great time.

The latest steps are performed by Elisabeth Gomes and Ted Silva.

People

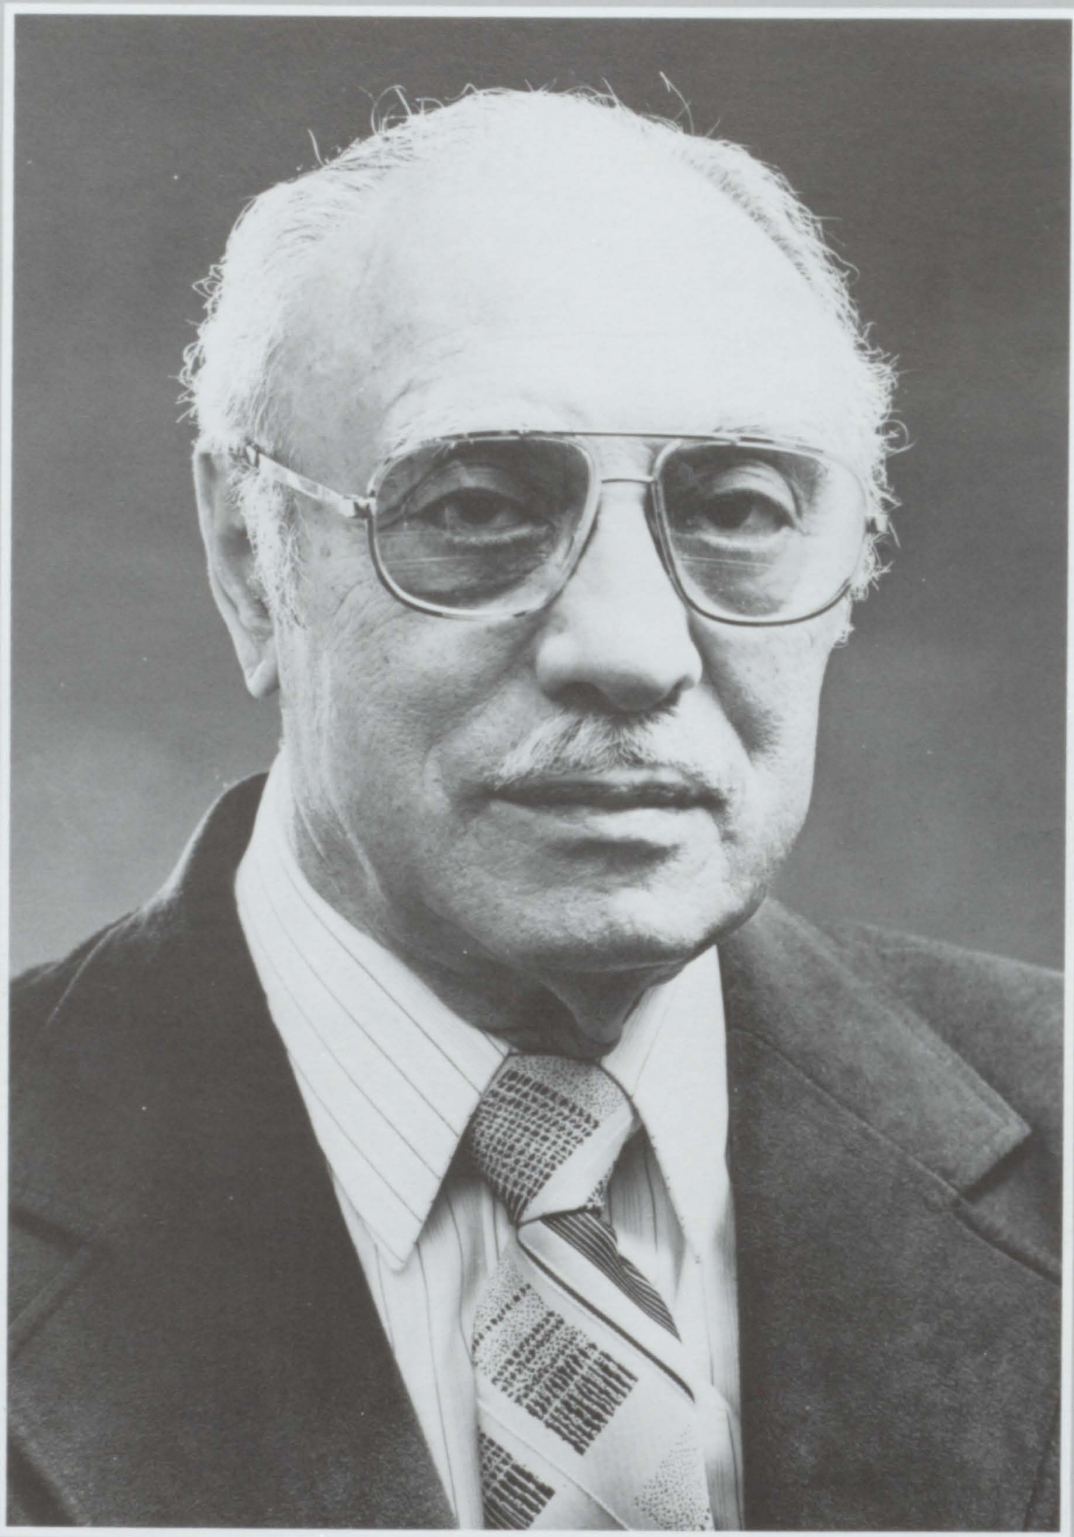

Among the people who influence us the most and often leave a special impact on our lives are the administrators and teachers at East Side.

Many become our friends and many change our lives in special ways.

The people we meet most frequently are our teachers. We see them every day, we depend on them for many things. It is those teachers who make a special effort to make their classes interesting, who take time to meet with students - these are the teachers we remember long after we leave East Side.

Who will forget Mr. Chill's interesting and funny stories about various historical figures in World History class or Ms. Werner's entertaining jokes, that help us start Driver Education class with a smile.

When we recall our East Side days, our teachers will be remembered for their talent, their dedication, and their understanding.

Dr. Emanuel Liccese

In Recognition

A graduate of East Side High School's class of 1922, Dr. Emanuel Liccese has given a lifetime of professional service to the Ironbound Community, the same community into which he was born and where he attended Lafayette Street School. In 1926 Dr. Liccese received a Bachelor of Science degree from New York University and his medical degree from George Washington University in 1930.

Entering the Army as captain in 1942, he was placed in charge of surgical services for almost two years at a military hospital in England. He served four years and achieved the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Upon returning to Newark in 1946, he resumed his career as surgeon, setting up practice on Jefferson Street.

Shortly after his election as medical staff president in 1957 he was honored with a testimonial dinner given by friends, acquaintances and associates.

In 1980, Dr. Liccese received the Distinguished Service Award for his 50th year of service and dedication to St. James Hospital and the Ironbound Community.

Dr. Liccese's professional affiliations are many and have included membership in the American Medical Association, Essex County Medical Society, Fellows of the American College of Surgeons as well as other leading national and state organizations. It is with great pride and pleasure that the class of 1985 awards the Alumni of Superior Merit to such a concerned, dedicated and distinguished Ironbound Community physician.

The A-Team

At East Side, the main force behind us all are our Principal, Vice-Principals and Chairpersons. Not only are they the administrators of our school but they are also our friends, who are always there when we need their assistance and guidance. By being responsive to our needs, they have continuously worked with us for an atmosphere of mutual respect and trust.

Mrs. Cardiello's our Principal for two and a half years has been promoted to Assistant Executive Superintendent in charge of Instructional Services. She is a dedicated educator and we wish her continued success.

The Senior class congratulates Mr. Robert Wujciak, former Drug Coordinator and Vice-Principal at East Side, who has now become Acting-Principal. We wish him luck and know he will continue to work with faculty, class officers, student council and community members in order to continue improvements and make East Side a better place for all.

In this endeavor he is often assisted by the Vice-Principals who play a very important role in helping to establish school rules and regulations. Mr. Martin one of our Vice-Principals has developed an effective fire drill procedure and has also worked with the students to organize the first Senior Citizen Luncheon so that we can enjoy and share the company of older members in our community.

Department Chairpersons in our school have kept all of the academic departments well organized. This has helped each student have access to a fine learning environment.

We, the class of 1985, have relied on the A-team for good judgement, guidance and direction and because of this we all have prospered and become one of the best schools in the district.

We welcome at this time the following new members of the A-team, Mrs. Outor, Mr. Machado, and Mr. Moselle. We wish them well and know they will do their very best at East Side.

Developing New Skills

The art and music departments consist of a small group of faculty members, who never fail to help a student develop their talents and skills.

We have found that in attending art class, we have been given the opportunity to develop our ideas into creative expressions. We have worked on still life drawings, watercolor paintings, pastel portraits, taken photographs of our community, made photograms and developed a photo-essay all under the direction of our dedicated art teachers.

In our music department the chorus and Choir J perform under the direction of Mrs. Glover. Their various concerts at Christmas and other times during the year always give pleasure.

Our band, under musical director Mr. Cleveland, participates with pride and enthusiasm at football games, pep rallies, parades and various community activities.

In the music foundations classes, we have learned to read music symbols as well as develop an appreciation for various types of music. In addition, students with both interest and ability have been given the chance to develop skills with string instruments, through the instruction of Mr. Sutera.

This guidance, direction and exposure has all contributed in developing the great sounds that make up the East Side spirit.

Many students at East Side come from various foreign countries and therefore have difficulty in adjusting to high school life because of a language barrier.

The Bilingual teachers realize how troublesome ordinary homework assignments can be for these students when there is not a complete understanding of the language. Therefore, teachers like Mr. Barroqueiro assist these students by providing an enjoyable learning environment which makes them eager to participate in the various classroom activities.

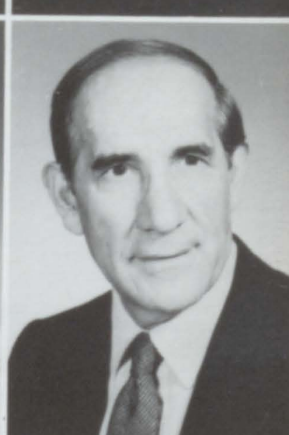

Mrs. Altaribba believes that with time and patience the students can quickly learn the English language. With this in mind, she allows them to work at an easy, comfortable pace.

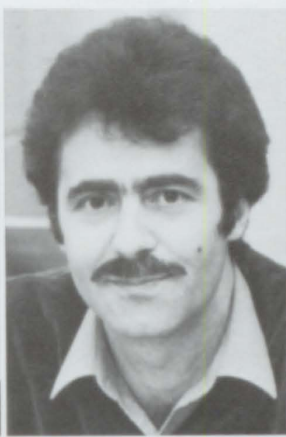

With the help of the Bilingual teachers, the students find little difficulty in learning English. As they gradually begin to master the language, the students discover that through hard work and with the proper guidance, learning English can be fun.

The Managing Minds

The Business Department at East Side provides us with various courses which enable us to pursue an occupation in the business world.

One of the classes offered is typing, where we are given the use of either manual or electric typewriters. This posed a minor problem for students like Roberta Arcoleo, who had to cut her long, pretty nails in order to use the typewriter properly.

Under the direction of our teachers we are taught how to become touch typists, a term which simply means that we are able to type without using our eyes as guides to the keyboard. Ms. Weeks stresses the importance of touch typing in completing our work quickly and efficiently by reprimanding us with a gentle tap of a ruler on our fingers if we are caught sneaking a glance at the keyboard.

In our steno classes, we are taught to form small, simple notes out of long, complicated sentences by using symbols in place of letters and words. To those who do not understand it, steno appears to be a foreign language. Students like Norma Ribeiro may often be seen doing some important steno homework which an unknowing individual may interpret as a mixture of abstract symbols.

Another class which benefits us greatly if we wish to become a part of the business world is bookkeeping, in which we are taught how to record the accounts and transactions of a business. In these classes we learn the importance of valid and accurate records in maintaining a good business.

Our Business teachers never fail to teach us that through hard work, many new and challenging skills can gradually be acquired. With their help, we may enter the business world with skill and confidence.

The English Connection

English classes have been of paramount importance to our daily routine at East Side.

The English teachers have helped us to better understand and appreciate our unique language. Under their guidance, we have witnessed our vocabulary steadily increase, and we have learned how to properly apply the more difficult new words into our writings in order to create clear, well-expressed reports and essays. We have entered some of our writings in the various essay contests such as the V.F.W. Voice of Democracy, the Newark Brotherhood Essay, and the Optimist Club Oratorical. The authors of the winning essays were awarded money, plaques, and trophies.

We are also given the opportunity to express our ideas and talents, as well as our creativity in designing costumes and sets at the Medieval Festival, which is given annually by Mrs. Matarazzo's English IV Honors and College Preparatory classes. The festival allows us to become acquainted with Medieval customs and lifestyles, and most importantly, with the literature of that period in time. By reading Geoffrey Chaucer's Canterbury Tales and Sir Walter Scott's Ivanhoe, students gain an awareness and understanding of life in the Middle Ages.

Our English teachers have made learning enjoyable by comparing and discussing, in detail, the many ideas in the writings of literary greats such as William Shakespeare, John Steinbeck, and George Orwell. Their interpretations of many of the classics written by these prominent authors have given us a deep appreciation of both English and American literature.

In addition to teaching us the importance of such valuable works of literature, our English teachers have guided us in strengthening our skills in vocabulary, analogies, and antonyms, three areas where we are tested in the Scholastic Aptitude Test, which all Seniors who plan to attend college must take.

Hopefully, with the assistance of our English teachers, we are now prepared to face the "outside world" with lucid expression, dignity, and confidence.

New Horizons

The Guidance Counselors are one of the most important parts of our high school life. Nothing can compare to the advice and assistance that they are always ready to give.

They have helped us to grow and become responsible adults able to meet any challenges that we may face. With their help we have gained a deeper awareness of ourselves and others. It is a combination of both hard work and caring that describes our counselors at East Side.

They never fail to help us in filling out college and financial aid applications, in addition to giving us much useful information needed in selecting the right college. Our counselors organized trips to colleges such as Essex County and Rutgers, where we were given the opportunity to examine the educational programs offered at these schools.

We wish to thank Miss Seawell and Mr. Sambur, our Senior Class counselors, who have given us advice in selecting the classes best suited to our career interests, and who have assisted us in preparing our plans for the future. They have taught us to achieve and to follow our dreams.

In addition to the advice and guidance given by our counselors we are given the chance to develop new horizons through the Foreign Languages offered at East Side.

The correct manner in which to speak and pronounce the words of another language is what we are taught in our Foreign Language classes. We are also taught how to think and express our feelings and ideas in this new language that is so different from our own.

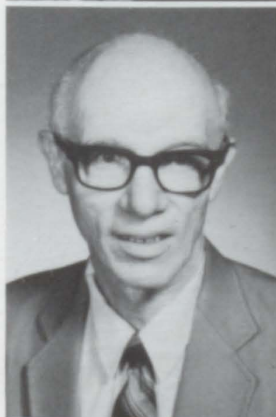

Teachers in this department take special care to make sure that we understand the language, as well as the interesting history behind it.

Our Foreign Language classes also offer us the opportunity to experience the unique cultures of various countries by allowing us to participate in East Side's International Night, which is organized by the members of our Foreign Language Department.

At this enjoyable and interesting event, we are encouraged to bring an array of "International Dishes" for everyone to sample, and we may choreograph dance routines from different countries. This way, we not only learn a foreign language, but also the ideas and cultures of the people who speak the language in that particular country.

Opportunities To Explore

The technical courses offered at East Side give us an opportunity to work with various materials.

Two classes which make up this program are Drafting and Graphic Arts where we learn the basic printing processes, which are then put to good use when we print tickets used for all school dances.

We may also take Electronics I and II, which gives us the necessary materials and information needed for future study.

In the Auto and Wood Shops, we learn the techniques of fixing cars and how to work with various woods in the production of such objects as tables, chairs, shelves and cabinets.

Another area which offers much useful as well as practical information and experiences is Home Economics. Getting involved with these classes has provided a valuable experience in the preparation of foods from the simplest dish to the most advanced. Dulce DaSilva a senior, can still recall those burnt chocolate chip cookies.

For those of us who enjoy sewing, classes are given in how to select materials and make our own clothes. Stella Ho, also a senior, can recall with some laughter the making of a sport outfit, and what a challenge it was to cut and sew the pattern.

Thanks to this varied program of studies we can enter a variety of occupations with confidence and pride.

Learning the tricks of the "trade" from Mr. Ardito.

Working It Out

The Mathematics Department at East Side offers a variety of subjects from General Math to Computer Programming. For each complicated problem that we do not understand our teachers never fail to give us a logical explanation and help us in working it out.

The help they have given us over the years has been greatly appreciated especially when it was time to take the math section of the Scholastic Aptitude Test. In this test our knowledge of algebra and geometry was certainly challenged. The knowledge that we have acquired from our teachers in these areas proved especially valuable to those of us who hope to continue the study of mathematics in college.

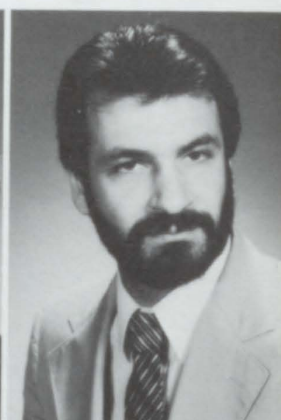

In addition to the required mathematical courses such as algebra and geometry, we may also elect to take Computer Programming. This course, taught by Mrs. Salagaj, has proven very valuable for those of us who wish to enter the fast-growing field of computer technology, for it has provided us with a working knowledge about computers.

Basic is the language used for programming our computers, and we have put it to good use in producing our Senior Class Ranks.

Under the supervision of Ms. Polakowski, Tony Rodrigues, President of the Computer Club, and Jose Cardoso have given up their lunch periods for several weeks in order to program the computer for figuring out our ranks.

With the guidance and assistance of our teachers, we have learned how to think logically and come to clear, reasonable conclusions.

Keeping Fit and Informed

The Greek philosophy - "A sound mind and a sound body go together," this is certainly observed at East Side. To lessen the stress after classes, boost our energy, and keep us physically fit, our physical education teachers allow us to participate in a broad range of athletic sports and activities, such as weightlifting, softball, basketball, and running. In addition to keeping us physically fit, these activities teach us the importance of team participation.

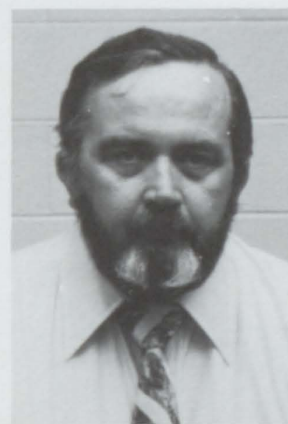

Throughout the fall and winter seasons, sports must be played indoors, in the gymnasiums. However, once the weather permits, we are led outdoors to Independence Park, where we may soak up sunshine and fresh air while participating in a sport or activity. In the park, teachers like Ms. Brown, Mr. Blasi, and Mr. Banais test our speed in such areas as the 50 yard dash and long-distance running.

In our health classes, we are taught the basic functions of the human body and how smoking and alcohol can endanger our lives. Our health teachers guide us in learning C.P.R. and first aid so that in the event of an accident, we will know how to care for our lives or the life of another.

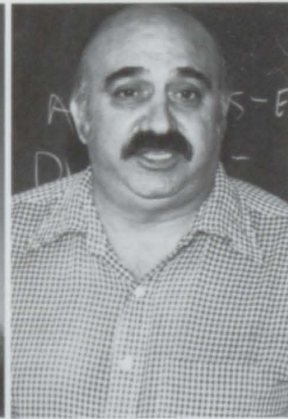

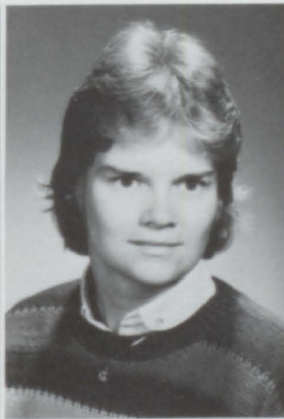

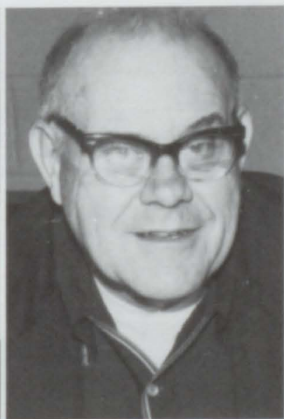

Although the driver education classes at East Side offer no practical driving experience, they give us the written theory, which has proven extremely important to those of us who have received our licenses and are now drivers. With the assistance of our driver education teachers such as Ms. Werner and Mr. Watson, we were taught the importance of traffic signals, weather conditions when driving, and the dangerous effects that alcohol and drugs can have on a driver.

Thanks to the help and guidance of our physical education and health teachers we know the importance of a healthy body and how to care for ourselves and others.

A Skill Once Learned . . .

Our Science Department consists of teachers who do their best to help us understand the complicated formulas and laws which constitute the basic foundations of science.

In biology we are taught about the complicated structures of various creatures, both terrestrial and aquatic. Through the efforts of Ms. Gonnelli, some of the Science classes are able to study those life forms by taking field trips to Sandy Hook, New Jersey.

While walking along the shore, we pick up various shells and sea life for examination and discussion. We also examine horseshoe crabs, and are taught that they are non-poisonous. Our student photographer, Pedro Sousa, captures and records the various activities and special moments experienced on these trips.

Such trips, along with experiments and lab work help us to understand the importance of Science in our daily lives.

In addition to being able to study Science our social studies teachers have kept us abreast with current events, as well as fascinated us with stories of the past.

With the help of our teachers we learn how civilizations develop and how many individuals shaped entire nations.

We discover how much can be accomplished when people unite, and how wars have affected the progress of society.

In Christian O'Neill's history classes we are given the opportunity to experience presidential debates and campaigns through role playing, in which we act out the parts of important historical figures. Mr. Chill's classes always become more challenging when he allows us to try our hand at various brain teasers. These puzzles, which promote thought and careful deduction, often leave us perplexed, but eager to discover a solution.

In addition to helping us understand people and events from the past, our teachers have also given us the opportunity to learn about ourselves and the society in which we live especially through our psychology and sociology classes, taught by Mr. Chill and Mr. Zenga.

With their help we have gained an understanding of certain aspects of our personalities and we have learned about various significant roles our society upholds. We have also discovered the problems that face our society such as crime, poverty, pollution and drugs, and what we, as a united group, can do to help eliminate these problems in order to make today and tomorrow a better place.

Lending A Hand

Shelving books, checking them in, checking them out, helping students look for critical reviews, and selecting the book of the month are just a few of the daily tasks performed by our librarians in the Media Center. We know that whether we are working on a special book report or doing extensive research on term paper our librarians, Mrs. Gipson, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Rosenbaum are always there to help us.

Our special education teachers work with each student on an individual basis in order to develop their strong points. These teachers have given many students extra assistance and help. This year our special education department welcomes the addition of two new faculty members, Mr. D'Andrea and Ms. Mouzon. We know they will only serve to enhance this special department.

Dr. Lindgren and Mr. Mascatiello our Chapter I coordinators, give special help on an individual basis to students in the subject areas of reading and math. This help is most welcomed by all the students involved.

In the area of speech pathology we find Mr. Grant, our speech therapist, who helps students develop their speech in a clear and correct manner, through the use of various exercise methods in sounds.

Problems, problems, problems, can always be discussed with Ms. Rodriguez, social worker who helps counsel students whenever needed.

Mr. Jack and Mr. McCormack our two attendance counselors work together for the continued improvement of attendance at East Side. They can always be found checking records and making important calls.

Our drug coordinator Mr. Wichowski is always ready to instruct and inform students about the dangers of drug use.

Stomach upsets and headaches are everyday events at East Side that keep our two fine nurses very busy. Mrs. Block and Ms. Sheridan, in addition to taking temperatures and soothing minor cuts and bruises, provide yearly tests for scoliosis, an abnormal curvature of the spine. No matter what the task, they are always ready with a smile.

Always Giving Assistance

It takes a lot of people to make a good school. A lot of good people, working together.

If ever the term jack-of-all-trades applies, it applies to our secretaries. They are the key people to whom everyone comes for information. Students ask them everything. Parents phone constantly. Teachers ask about all kinds of rules and records. Our secretaries are very reliable and supportive.

The custodians keep the school running. In many ways, the school, with all its different parts, is like a big machine, and the custodians must know everything about running it. Operating the boilers that keep the school warm requires special training and a special state license. Who cleans up after all those messy lunch periods? Who picks up fallen posters? Who fixes a broken window? The custodial staff.

Mr. Roberts, our chef, believes in service with a smile. He, along with his staff always try to satisfy both student and faculty. They make sure everyone gets a balanced and nutritious meal.

The security guards offer protection, direction, and assistance. They reduce vandalism, remove the threat of violence, or sometimes simply ease occasional anxiety. They are always a welcome sight.

A good school includes all these people - people who work, as a team, to give assistance and keep East Side running efficiently.

Custodians: Mrs. Lucy Nyers, Mr. Hutcherson, Roxann Thomas, Mr. Woody, Charles Collins.

Security: Mr. Woods, Mrs. Lockette, Mr. Gordon, Mrs. Davis.

Cheer up, Mr. Martin, there are indications of a turn around.

Trophy Battle

On June 7, 1984 the student council sponsored the first annual student-vs.-faculty volleyball game. An enthusiastic group of spectators looked on as the volleyball swayed back and forth over the net.

The faculty was well represented by the following teachers: Mr. Molinaro, Ms. Sevidis, Ms. Rodriguez, Mrs. Pellerito and Ms. Werner, however their expertise was not to be compared to that of the students. Although the faculty tried hard to defeat their opponents, top notch players such as John Krug, Charlie De Almeida, Sergio Dos Santos, Diane Lemos, Elizabeth Gomes and Alex Franco were always one step ahead.

The final turn-out proved that the students were undefeated three games straight. The winning team was presented with a trophy by Mr. Martin and the afternoon came to a close as teachers and students both exited smiling and sharing a friendship known to all East Siders.

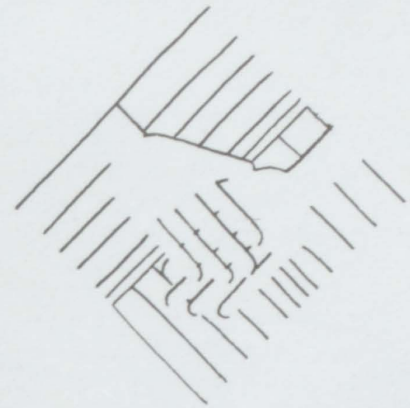

Victory is so sweet.

Waiting for her turn to spike the ball.

An Olympic moment for East Side.

The winning team.

Hit the ball, that way, please.

Hurry up and serve.

All The Right Stuff

Every graduating class needs an adviser to plan, organize and supervise Senior year activities.

We have been most fortunate to have "the best" — Mr. Leonard Chill.

He has been the motivating force behind the many and varied class activities such as the Splash Party, Jr./Sr. Prom, Poconos Trip, along with the numerous cake and candy sales. Through his guidance, efforts and marvelous ability to interact with students, Sr. Year, has been a memorable and gratifying experience.

Assisting Mr. Chill, in these endeavors are class officers, President, Sergio Dos Santos, Vice-President, Rosangela Costa, Treasurer, Dulce Da Silva, and Secretary Rosa Cunha.

We, the graduating class of 1985, express our special thanks to Mr. Chill for all his support, and for all the memories he has helped create.

Class Officers: Dulce Da Silva, Treasurer; Sergio Dos Santos, President; Rosa Cunha, Secretary; Rosangela Costa, Vice President.

Governor's Scholars

For two of our seniors, Maria Souza and Julie Resende, this past summer was one of new experiences. These seniors participated in the Governor's School held at Monmouth College for a month.

During these four weeks, they attended many informative seminars that dealt with topics such as the arms race, nuclear war, world economics and famine in the third world.

Various trips were taken to such places as New York City where they enjoyed the United Nations and immigration offices along with Chinatown which always has an interesting mix of cultures.

One of the more important aspects of this program was to give these scholars the experience of "college life". They were given independence and freedom long associated with college, along with various responsibilities.

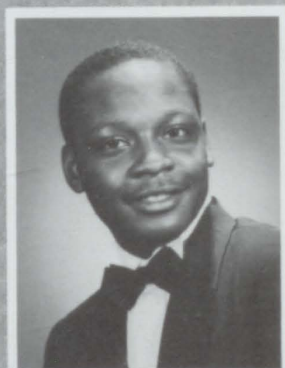

The Governor's School left many pleasurable memories in the minds of these seniors. Maria Souza looks back to the times spent with new-found friends and says, "I had a great time".

Keeping Stride

The tradition of winning continued for the East Side Track Team, when three of our seniors, became members in freshman year.

Frank Dos Santos, Lina Beirao, and Jose Barros have all been a part of this team and have won many meets as well as recognition for their abilities.

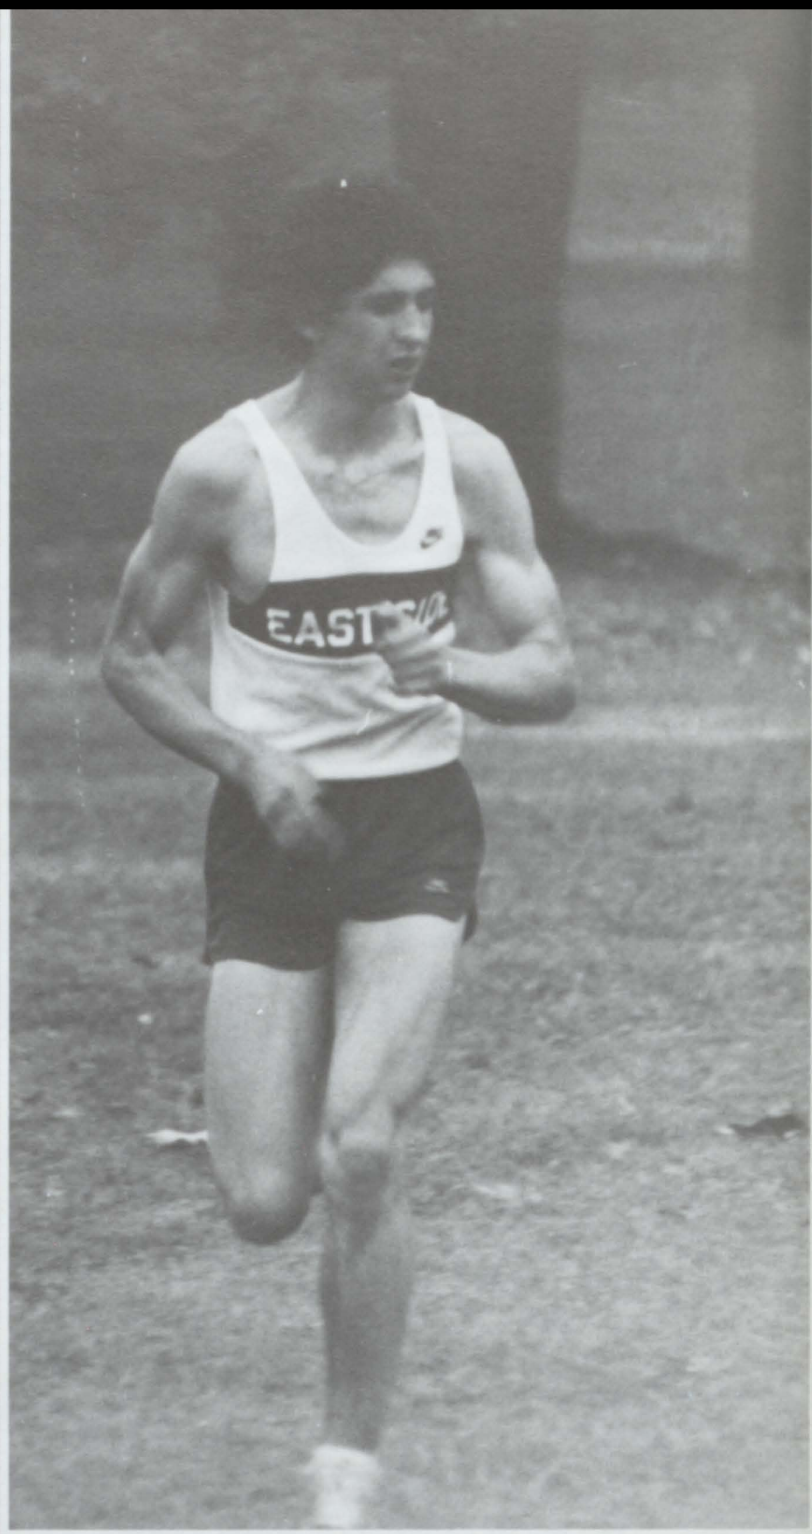

Under the steady guidance of Coach Dickerson, these seniors have won several titles. Both Jose and Frank have been City Champions and County Champions three times, State Sectional Champions twice, and State Group Four Champions in the 1/2 mile meet.

Lina has earned the titles of City Champion, County Champion, State Sectional and State Group Four Champion as well.

The running careers that these talented athletes have developed at East Side will not end after graduation.

Frank, Lina and Jose plan to continue keeping stride at Montclair State, Glassboro State and Georgetown University.

With their training, their experiences and definite enthusiasm for this sport, they will undoubtedly continue very successful careers.

Jose Barros gutting out that final mile.

Putting In Long Hours

Ranking number ten in the graduating class of '85 is Mario Santos. Mario has worked hard and studied long hours to achieve this well deserved position.

He has kept his grades at an outstanding level, and has been very active in many East Side events such as modeling in the fashion shows, playing King Henry in the Medieval Festival, and participating in both the Portuguese Club and the Honor Society.

One of the most important activities for Mario has been his four year involvement with the East Side soccer team. Mario, as a team member, has shared the joy that comes with being City Champions.

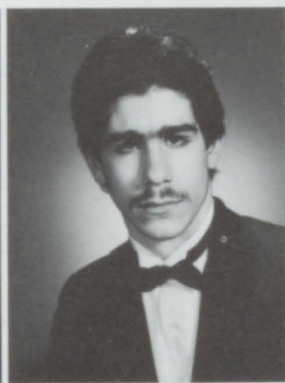

He plans to attend college with a major in either Criminal Justice or Psychology. Mario is determined to succeed because of his abilities and willingness to put in long hours.

Pen Mightier Than Sword

Writing well is a talent which many people do not possess. This is certainly not the case with Jorge Fernandez and Terri Ortiz. These seniors have shown their capabilities time and time again by joining the various essay contests and by receiving recognition for doing so. Terri submitted her writings to the V.F.W. contest and in her senior year placed third in the contest. The subject of her essay was "My Pledge to America" where she spoke about the responsibilities and obligations of her and her peers toward America and its future.

Jorge proved his ability to write first in his sophomore year by entering the Optimist contest and placing third. The essay's topic was "Youth, America's Strength"; he told how we, the younger generation, will inherit the world's many responsibilities and that we must begin preparing for this now. Then, in his junior year, he entered the Optimist contest again and came in second place, the topic "Serve With Pride". He spoke about the various things in which one can be proud of, for instance, serving your country by joining the armed forces.

Both Jorge and Terri write as a hobby and enjoy the feeling of being creative. By voicing their opinions through the various essay contests, they have definitely proved that the pen is mightier than the sword.

Fernanda Cruz, our friendly and vivacious number nine ranking senior.

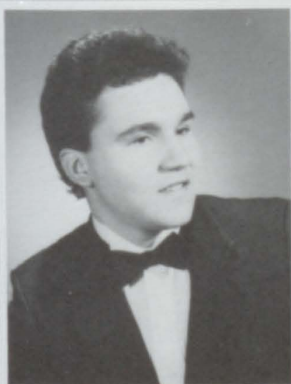

Energetic and Vivacious

The number nine ranked student on the top ten list is Fernanda Cruz. Fernanda has worked hard to achieve an even four-point average. Although Fernanda has dedicated much of her time to her school work, she is far from being the average "A" student.

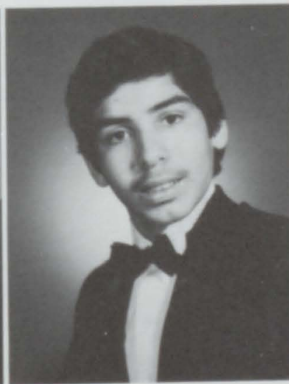

This energetic student has served as a member of the executive committees for both the Civics Club and the Senior Class. Along with those positions she is also secretary for the National Honor Society. After school, Fernanda has also held a part-time job in a local food store.

Of all her activities however, Fernanda finds her participation in the Annual Medieval Festival one of her favorites. Fernanda enjoyed portraying Princess "Sophia" in the play entitled "Eastland."

"It was exciting having the lead in the Festival," "I can't believe I did."

Trenton Scholars: Mario Santos, Lee Brown, Diane Lemos.

Participants In Government

On December 5th and 6th, in Trenton, New Jersey, four seniors became active participants in government. Nilda Dominguez, Diane Lemos, Mario Santos, and Lee Brown took part in New Jersey "Close Up". The purpose of this program is to stimulate the interests of high school students to learn more about state government on a first hand basis.

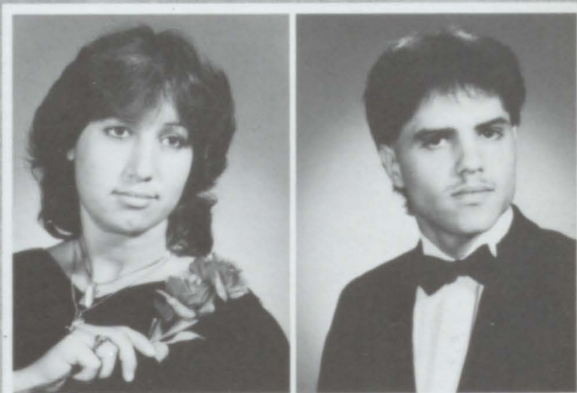

During these days, seminars were held in which these seniors expressed their views on many controversial issues. Among the topics for discussion were abortion, ERA, and the rights of non-smokers. Various opinions were presented and several arguments were heard; many were given the opportunity to speak out for or against these topics.

Also, on the agenda was a tour of the government buildings. They visited the State House, where they sat in the Assembly Chambers and observed the legislature in action; they journeyed to the Justice Complex and met with several judges who explained the complex judicial process and answered questions.

They then went on to visit the State House Annex where they listened to the Public Advocate speak about various laws affecting all citizens.

Nilda, Diane, Mario, and Lee felt that they indeed had learned about the inner workings of state government from this exciting experience.

When asked if the program was informative for them, Diane Lemos said, "It was an experience well worth our time and effort".

Eddie Borger, slaps one in from inside the blueline.

Skating To Victory

One of the most successful sports at East Side is the hockey team. There are several seniors on the team this year but all the players have had a hand in making the team one which we can all be very proud of. The seniors are Eddie Borger, captain, Anthony Tonzola, Michael Lalley, Peter Wilczek, Alex Franco, Chris Ihlings, and Eddie De Carmo. Borger and Tonzola have participated in the hockey program since their freshman year and Lalley and Wilczek since their sophomore year. Two of these seniors are among the top ten leading scorers in the state; Tonzola is in seventh place and Lalley is in fifth.

The team's record for this year was 11-2-2. One of the highlights of the season was the championship game against their biggest rival - St. Peters, which by winning four to two gained them the title of American Conference Division Champions.

Overall, the team had an exceptional year because of the talented players along with a lot of hard work and cooperation from everyone involved with this popular sport.

Letters of Importance

"It is my pleasure to inform you that you have been granted admission to our college beginning with the Fall 1985 term ..."

With these words comes a wonderful feeling of relief as well as importance. Those seniors, who received this letter can now make additional plans for the future.

Many East Siders send out applications at the beginning of senior year, and hope for a reply in the Spring. Some students however, refuse to be put through a long wait so they apply in junior year for early admission, hoping to be informed during first term of Senior year.

Michael Marra, is one such East Sider who applied under the early admissions program to Boston University and was informed of his acceptance by December.

Other students who have taken advantage of this opportunity are Maria Guerreiro, accepted to Johnson and Wales, Patricia Luna, Hood College, Tony Moreira, DeVry Institute and Natalie Ruela, Rutgers University.

This sense of relief, which is brought about through early admission was best summed up by Patricia Luna when she said, "I feel that I have achieved something important, and I can now direct my attention and energies towards other goals."

Repairs, Repairs, Repairs

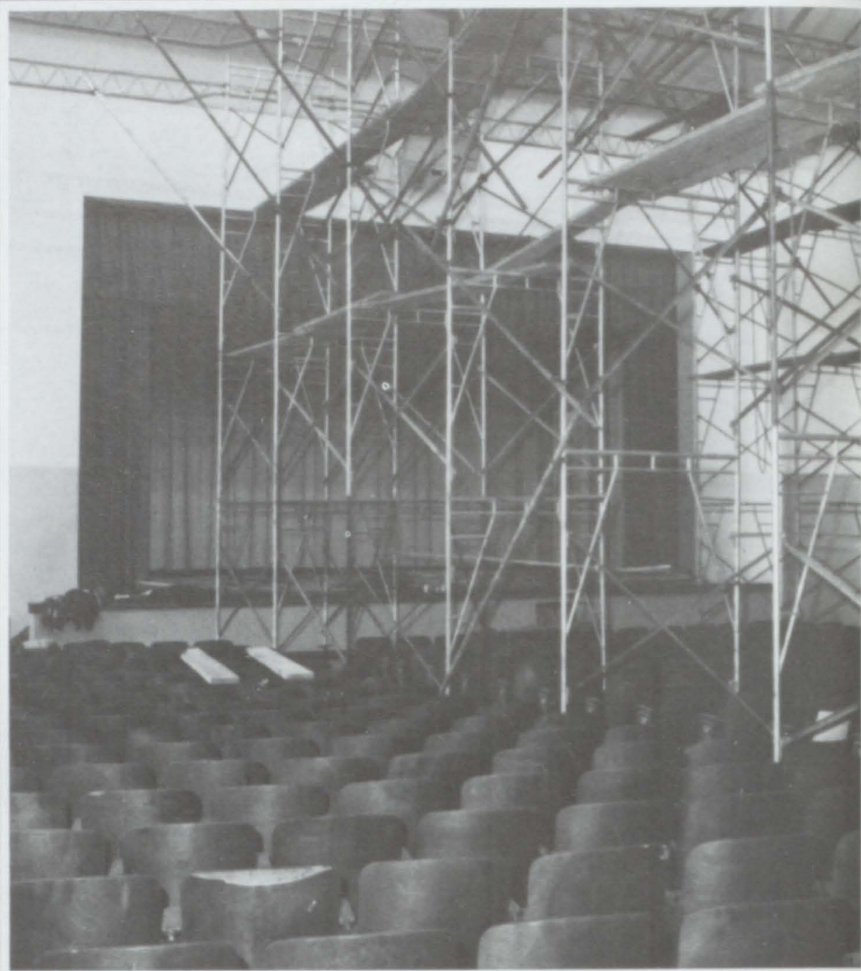

At the beginning of our senior year, we received the news that our auditorium would be closed to us in order to undergo construction, due to safety hazards which were discovered when parts of the ceiling began to fall. At once, the auditorium was proclaimed off-limits, and a construction crew was brought in to repair the dangerous ceiling.

The construction process took several months and throughout this time, workers could be seen carrying such materials as wood and metal planks in and out of this area. Soon, it became a busy place, crowded with people trying to accomplish an important task quickly and efficiently.

Assemblies could no longer be held there, so the cafeteria was put to use for that particular purpose. Many of us agreed that it was not as comfortable as the more spacious auditorium. After a few assemblies in the cafeteria, an important question came to many of the seniors' minds: could graduation be held in the auditorium? The answer to that question depended upon whether the work could be finished in time for June graduation.

Fortunately, in January, work was completed and the auditorium was once again open to assemblies and meetings.

If all goes as expected, the East Side auditorium will once again serve as the place for graduation ceremonies.

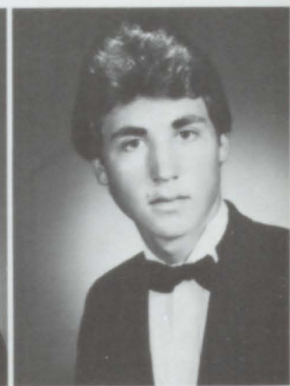

Getting ready for a facelift.

Celina Ruivo is number eight in the top ten rankings. By holding the position of Senior Class Representative, she keeps informed about matters concerning school government.

Celina has contributed much time and energy to the Torch through her work as clubs and activities co-editor. Her membership in the Civics Club allowed her to become involved in the organization of several dances and fund raisers.

In addition, she keeps busy after school with her job as a receptionist in a travel agency.

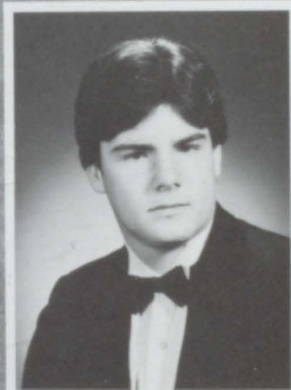

After graduation, Celina plans to attend college and obtain a degree in psychology, a goal which she will easily attain due to her scholastic ability and determination.

Coming in at number seven is Jose Cardoso, a student who holds an active interest in mathematics. He has shown both interest and ability by helping to establish class rankings as a Computer Club member.

Jose keeps active in our school government through his position as Senior Class Representative.

Like many students, he maintains a job at his father's auto body shop after school.

Since he enjoys mathematics, Jose plans to attend college and major in the fast-growing field of engineering. Obtaining a degree in this field will not prove a difficult task for such a hard-working and conscientious individual.

Hanging Around

In the years ahead, when we recall our East Side days, certain places within the school will be remembered more fondly than others. Particular classrooms may stand out in our minds because of good learning experiences, but our special memories will be those where we met most often with our friends and experience the best times of the day.

These areas of the school are referred to with affection as "hangouts". They are the designated areas where day after day a group of students can be seen standing, talking, joking and laughing.

The site of a particular hangout depends upon the students using it. Some prefer a certain stairway in building B, others would rather hang out on the third floor in building A, and still others prefer certain bathrooms in A, B, and C buildings.

The most frequently occupied hangouts however, are the lockers, where the majority of East Siders usually meet with friends.

Although many factors constitute memorable aspects of high school life, for many of us none can compare to the minutes spent at our favorite area.

For us, one of the hardest aspects about leaving East Side will be losing the security and friendship of our special hangouts.

Drive And Dedication

The student who holds the number five spot this year is Maria Julie Resende. "Julie", as she is better known to her friends, has been involved in many activities throughout her high school years. She is captain of the East Side Colorguards, Sergeant of the winterguards, President of the Track Club, Secretary of Student Council, Honor Society member, and Senior Class Representative.

She has an interest in writing, and became a member of the school newspaper, along with co-editor of sports for the yearbook.

Julie's awards and honors include 3rd place in the Optimist Oratorical Contest, Rutgers Achievers Award, and Governor's School Scholar.

In addition to these activities, she has a part-time job at a local bakery.

She has applied to several prestigious colleges, but has not decided on a specific major. This should not be a problem because success is sure to lie ahead for whatever area of study Julie decides to pursue.

Number six in class ranking is Ana Sanchez, a student who enjoys creative writing. She has put her writing talents to use by becoming editor-in-chief of the Torch and staff editor on the school newspaper. She is also a member of the literary magazine, Honor Society, Student Council, and Dungeons and Dragons club.

A major research project for Ana this year was the Medieval Festival, of which she was both writer and coordinator. This project also included the preparation of food, along with the organization and writing of an information booklet about Medieval life.

Ana's future plans include attending university in order to study elementary education, with a specialization in Bilingual/English As A Second Language area. She also hopes to keep up her interest in writing by taking extra courses.

These goals are surely attainable for such a creative and energetic individual as Ana.

Different Aspects of Government

Toward the end of junior year, four top students received the privilege of attending a special program at Rider College, entitled "New Jersey Boys State". Tony Rodrigues, Ted Silva, Tony Caetano, and John Caamano spent an enjoyable week at the college, during which time they attended various classes and meetings to learn about the different aspects of state government.

These East Siders were given the opportunity to meet students from other high schools throughout the state, and to attend pep rallies and such sporting events as football, tennis, and volleyball.

They also visited various sections of the college grounds, and were surprised to find a large, peaceful lake directly on campus.

Although they enjoyed these various forms of recreation, much of their time was spent in the classroom, studying how government operates, mass transit systems, and civil service procedures. They attended meetings in which they listened to speeches given by several candidates whom they were to elect as officers. These meetings, or "caucuses" made the students aware of the voting procedures in state government.

In addition, this experience provided the opportunity to divide into two parties, the Nationalists and Federalists, whose purpose was the election of a Governor for Boys State.

Although they were required to study and work hard throughout the week, when asked, about this opportunity, Tony Rodrigues replied, "It was great fun. We got the chance to meet people and learn many interesting aspects about government."

Towards Tomorrow

The number four rank in the top ten is held by Ana Nola, a student whose interest in math has led her to the field of engineering as a career choice.

In order to become better informed in mathematical problem solving, she attends Saturday morning classes at Steven's Institute of Technology.

Ana has shown an interest in extra curricular activities and community involvement by joining various clubs and organizations. She is a Student Council Senator, Honor Society member, and President of the Youth Council. In addition, she volunteers her free time as a tutor to young children at the Ironbound Educational and Cultural Center.

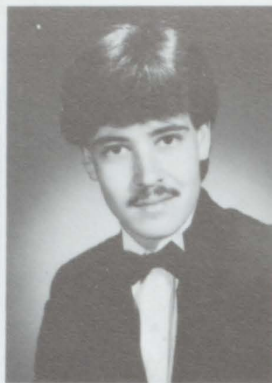

Ana plans to attend Steven's Institute after graduation because she feels it will definitely meet her career goals. With her positive attitude and exceptional mathematical ability, she is sure to succeed.

Ranking number three in the class of '85, Ted Silva is a student who believes in getting involved in school activities. While working to maintain a high grade-point average, Ted found time to join the literary magazine staff, as well as the executive committee of the Civics Club. He is also a Senior Class Representative, President of the Honor Society, and co-editor of the Senior section for the yearbook.

Among the awards and honors he has received are the Minority High School Achievement Award, and being named Who's Who Among American High School Students.

After graduation, Ted plans to attend an Ivy League college and major in English Literature. There is no doubt that Ted's outstanding scholastic ability will allow him to achieve his goals in life.

The one place we leisurely walk to before first period, drop our books off at lunchtime, run to when we realize we have forgotten a certain book for class is to our LOCKERS. Those big, red and blue compartments in Buildings A and B, which we received individually in our junior year, are so unlike the more narrow ones in Building C which we had to share during our first two years at East Side.

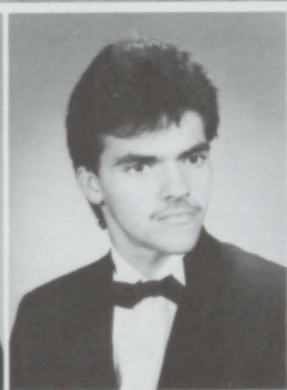

Upon receiving the larger lockers, many of us realized that it was more fun to share this new space than to use it alone. So, instead of one coat or jacket, many contain two or three, and instead of one particular type of decor, various kinds are blended together to form a unique style. As anyone can tell by walking down the hallways between classes, no two are exactly alike.

Our lockers are the one place at East Side where we may fully express our personalities without anyone telling us to remove or add a thing. In addition, they sometimes serve as an excuse for being late to class. What teacher hasn't heard the worn-out line, "I was at my locker". In order to appear more convincing, we go on to explain that we were getting necessary material for that particular class.

We will remember our lockers as the places where we met with friends, stored secrets, and exchanged ideas. As we prepare to leave East Side in June, we will not only take those mirrors, pictures and posters from our lockers, but many happy memories as well.

Dynamic Duo

Since freshman year, both Diane Lemos and Natalie Ruela have strived to develop their scholastic ability, and now in senior year, they have been rewarded by receiving the distinction of being named salutatorian and valedictorian. Such honors are well deserved, for much of Diane's and Natalie's time throughout their years at East Side, have been devoted to their studies.

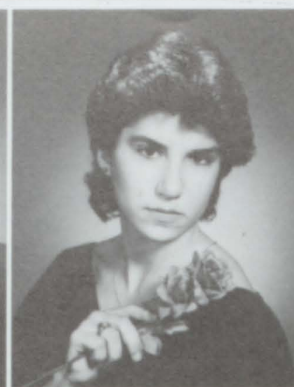

However, that is not to say, that all their time has been spent on school work. Natalie has shown an interest in various extra curricular activities such as the Dungeons and Dragons club, East Side's softball team, as well as finding time to be typing editor of the 1985 Torch, and Treasurer of the National Honor Society.

Diane on the other hand has participated in the French club, National Honor Society, Colorguards, school newspaper and is co-editor of the Senior Section of the '85 Yearbook.

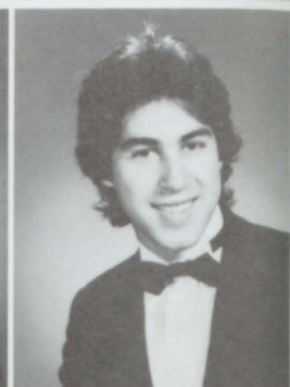

Both Natalie and Diane, plan to attend college and pursue careers in Bio-Chemistry and Pharmacy. We are sure they will be successful in whatever academic areas they pursue because of their talents and determination.

Three-Letter Man

Most athletes find it difficult to excel within a sport. East Side has been fortunate to have Michael Lalley who has excelled in three sports.

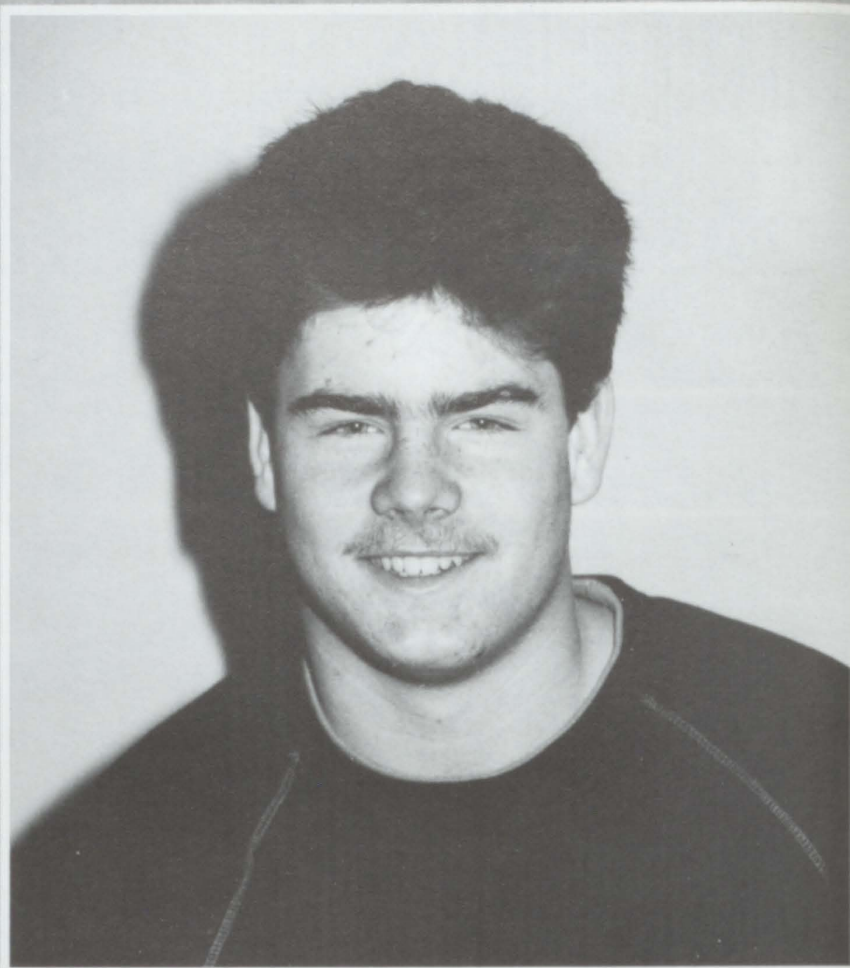

Michael has been a member of the baseball team, where he earned a letter with his gold game performance as first baseman, and where he demonstrated his expertise in the batter's box.

While on the football field, Mike divided his time by playing both middle linebacker and fullback. He helped the team achieve its first success in recent years.

Michael's third sport is hockey. As a member of the hockey team, Mike has skated to a C-Division Championship and this year in A-Division, a Hamdchen Cup Championship.

He expects to continue his athletic endeavors at Montclair State, where he plans to concentrate on football and perfect his skills as a middle linebacker.

For someone who has already proven exceptional athletic abilities, we are confident that Michael will continue to achieve his future goals with style and ease.

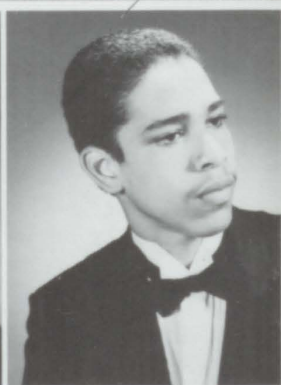

The all-around athlete.

Measuring Up

As the classes entered the gymnasium, the bleachers filled with seniors waiting to be measured for caps and gowns.

Everyone was given an order form to complete after the instructions were explained by the company representative.

After the order forms were finished, a line formed in the corner of the gym and measurements were taken. Mr. Blasi and Mr. Banias helped to keep things running smoothly as the tape measure passed from person to person and another step toward graduation continued.

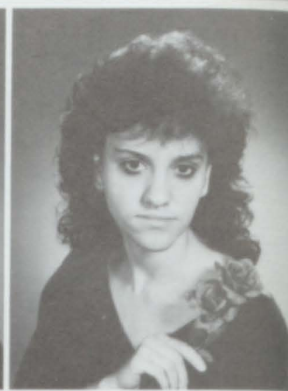

By the end of the period new bonds of friendship were formed while old bonds were strengthened making this event very special.

Rafaela Amaro takes notes during her SAT class in hopes of being well prepared.

Jose Pinho goes over the SAT Review, in preparation for the upcoming exam.

Improving SAT Skills

The SAT as most seniors know, is extremely difficult and requires a great deal of preparation for success.

Before a class was offered at East Side, students had to take the class at Rutgers or Seton Hall Universities.

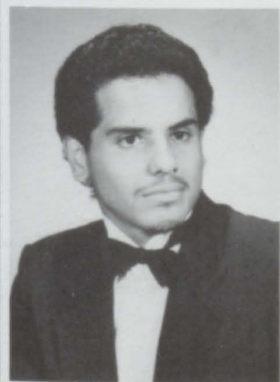

But in 1984, East Side instituted a special SAT skills class for interested students, to help prepare them for this rigorous and challenging test.

The class offers as a major objective the familiarization of various math and English concepts found on the test.

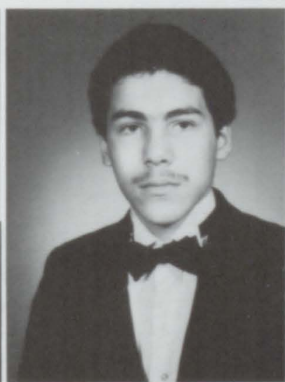

As Gasper Cerqueira said, "I feel it helps me get to know the material better".

Apparently this approach has had success. Mrs. Di Piazza who teaches the math portion and Mr. D'Errico who handles verbal skills, have both cited an increase in the test results.

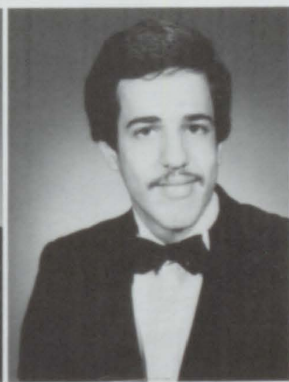

Hopefully this course will continue and help provide other East Siders with the much needed preparation required for good test scores.

Highlight of The Day

During the course of our school day, the one period everyone waits anxiously for is, period 7, "senior lunch".

The cafeteria is the place where it is held. In years past, the cafeteria served a quick lunch, but it now serves as the ideal spot to read, do homework, relax or "blow off steam". Books clutter the tables as seniors busily complete their Trig. or Chem. assignments. This special area provides us with an atmosphere that makes us feel more at home.

However, most seniors find that the most important purpose of the cafeteria is that it offers a chance to be with friends. Roseangela Costa says, "the cafeteria is great. It is where everyone catches up on the latest news."

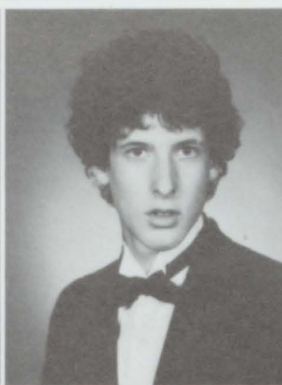

As freshman and sophomores we had open lunch, which enabled us to leave the building and make individual lunch plans.

Junior year brought a change in our routine when closed lunch was put into effect. However by Senior year the cafeteria took on new and delightful experiences.

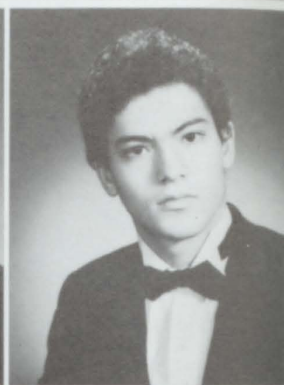

Although it is the object of many jokes, our cafeteria and "period 7" lunch especially, fulfills our many and varied needs.

Hot Shot

Throughout the year, most of us have seen a particular student walking about with a bulky brown bag and camera in hand.

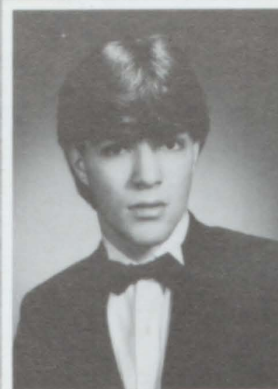

This aspiring young student photographer is senior, Pedro Sousa.

Pedro has been the yearbook and newspaper photographer for two years and has also been employed by the Lorstan Photo Studio, where work has been fun and exciting.

Photography, however is only one of the many interests Pedro is involved with. At East Side, he has been a member of both Varsity Track and Cross Country teams. He has run in such events as City, County, and State Sectional Championships and because of his over all performance he has been encouraged to continue this sport in college.

At present, his career interests lie in the realm of fashion photography and he hopes to pursue this study at The Fashion Institute of Technology in New York City.

After a period of freelancing, he plans to have his own photo studio. With determination, hardwork and his ability, it will not be long before Pedro's goals are realized.

Gifted and Talented

While still in grammar school, Fernando Dos Santos was interested in art. For his friend, Celso Ferreira, his interest in art began in freshman year, but either way, both have matured into exceptional art students.

Fernando says, "I enjoy art because it allows me to express my thoughts on canvas with paint in a creative manner." He continues to develop abilities in Dr. Pellegrino's Drawing and Painting class.

Both Celso and Fernando have part time jobs, after school and both enjoy sports. Fernando is an avid skier, and member of East Side's Ski Club. Celso is a National Honor Society Member and has put his artistic abilities to work by designing posters for local merchants and organizations.

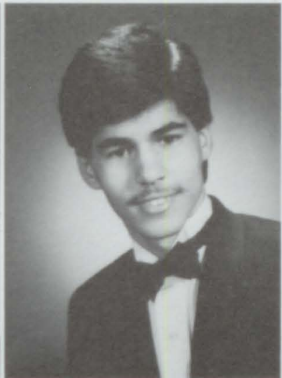

After graduation, Celso plans to attend the DeVry Institute, but Fernando is still undecided, but one thing is certain — both plan to continue developing their artistic interests and abilities.

Community

Many times,
by getting involved
in our high school activities, we also become active in our community. When we win a contest at school, we are not only representing our school, but our community as well.

East Siders are active members of their community.

They have successfully proven this many times by becoming involved as Tony Rodrigues has in the Ironbound Ambulance Squad, or by becoming hospital volunteers as have Maria De Silva and Michael Marra. In addition, Maria Sousa, Jackie Colon, Ana Nola and Alda Xavier offer their assistance as tutors to children in after school programs.

They have learned that by helping others through participating in these activities, they are gaining not only personal benefits, but also learning how to deal with different people, and problems — they are experiencing what being part of community is all about.

By their actions and involvement, the students are expressing the belief that the spirit of friendship is alive at East Side and in the Community.

A Night of International Flavor

As the lights dimmed, and the parents, faculty and students were seated, the performers for the International Night Festival waited nervously backstage.

The show opened with dancing representing the various countries of France, Portugal, Spain, the West Indies, the Dominican Republic and the Philippines. Also represented was the United States with performances by the Rock Band playing the latest musical favorites as well as accompanying Danny Jackson who gave his rendition of Lionel Richie's "Hello" and Billy Idol's "White Wedding."

In addition, a medley of songs were performed by Choir J and a martial arts demonstration was given by members of the Philippine community.

Following these varied and interesting performances, everyone was invited to the cafeteria where the festivities continued.

Once in the cafeteria, faculty, students and friends could find an assortment of multi-ethnic dishes for tasting.

This annual event gives everyone a chance to socialize, enjoy delicious foods, and perhaps become more aware of the various cultures that make up East Side's community.

Ironbound Sights and Main Events

The section of Newark known as the Ironbound is an inner-city neighborhood that was saved from the ignominy of many of its kind by waves of European settlers who came to the United States for the usual reasons: work, opportunity, and freedom.

The most recent wave of immigrants came not in the 19th century but in the late 1960's and early 1970's, when large numbers of Portuguese immigrants moved into the neighborhood, making it their own. They took over not only the row houses and shops, renewing them, but even factory buildings.

One of the strongest, busiest and most interesting areas of the Ironbound is the commercial section. This section located on either side of Ferry Street bustles during the week and on weekends it teems with shoppers, drawn by the ambience of foods, products and foreign languages. Adding to the international air, are the displays of brilliantly colored produce decorating the sidewalks. Portuguese bakeries are also to be found offering plentiful specialties such as custard cups, sweet bread, and tortas.

The Ironbound is also known for its restaurants, which are inexpensive and offer a variety of Portuguese cuisine. Paelha - a seafood dish usually made with sausage and chicken, Mariscada, full of clams, shrimp, scallops and pieces of lobster meat are among the most popular dishes offered.

From Ferry Street's busy commerce to the well-kept shade of its side streets, the Ironbound residents are content to live in their enclave within a city, renovating, renewing, attending schools and churches, and carefully tending their well planted gardens.

From the busy enclave of our small world to the larger area of Main Events, it was a year when Bruce rocked and Miss America rollicked nude in a magazine layout, Ghostbusters made more than $200 million to become the most successful comedy in history, break-dancing, 90 minute rock videos, PG-13 and Doug Flutie were among the events of our last year in high school.

Fashion was a mixed bag of favorites, Big Coats, Mousse hair styling, Dynasty fashions, Swatch watches and antique clothes.

It was a year of high-tech wizardry, starting with the Macintosh computer, that's easy to use, Camcorders, one-piece light-weight video camera and recorder, stereo TV's, and under $300 videocassettes.

Olympics coverage and the elections capped a year of 'event TV'. Geraldine Ferraro made history along with Jesse Jackson by becoming the first woman to run for the office of Vice-President and the first black to run for the Presidency. However, in November, Ronald Reagan was returned to the White House for a second four year term.

Speed, grace and power were on display in the Summer Olympics as we watched Lewis's long jump for gold, Loughinis's mastery of the springboard, Decker's tragedy and Retton performing her dynamic floor exercises.

Prince and Bruce Springsteen held the top L.P. slots for six months, along with the pop woman, Cyndi Lauper, a girl just having fun, Tina Turner, asking, "What's Love Got To Do With It" and Madonna's "Material Girl".

The artificial heart continued to make news with two patients having their lives prolonged because of this new and wonderful technology.

Other world events having impact on our Senior year were the Ghandi assassination and the death of the Russian leader Chernenko.

All of these significant world events have contributed to make our year one of political changes, medical breakthroughs, and important firsts in history. Their influence touched every individual and allowed for our familiar world to extend beyond the boundaries of the Ironbound.

A TIME OF GOODBYES

Maria Rodrigues and Terri Ribeiro share a happy moment of friendship.

Before taking down notes, Jose Farinhas pays close attention to an interesting lecture in English class.

When we began our freshman year at East side, we immediately started admiring the seniors - those students who had almost completed four full years of high school. All we could do was dream of the time - when we too would take their place.

Well, those four years magically became years filled with fun, laughter and merriment. In that period of time, we learned a great deal, got involved in school activities and formed special friendships as well as tried to become more mature and confident young adults.

Now we are seniors, and when we look back on our high school days many of us will recall East Side with happy thoughts, because we were beginning "the best four years of our lives."

Senior year will also be remembered as the year in which we shared new, exciting and fun filled times, experiences and events. Every "Doo-Da" still rings clear as we recall everyone cheering in the stands at the Hockey games. Who can forget the time spent at the Watchung Reservation and Echo Lake Park where we played football and barbeques and went canoeing; or the days in May and June when we raided the shores of New Jersey.

Now, we have before us unlimited opportunities. We are now faced with decisions concerning our lives, career choices, and which college will accept us.

As we prepare to leave East Side, we will leave behind many important events in our lives — but we will be taking more with us - memories full of laughter — friendships made — moments shared.

We depart knowing that whatever life has in store — our four years spent at East Side, have helped prepare and influence how we will deal with those events.

AND ANTICIPATION

Our President, Sergio Dos Santos proudly accepts the Torch on behalf of the class of '85.

Those special moments of hope and anticipation.

Best Wishes To The Class of '85 from Coach Dickerson's Cross-Country Team

If you think you're beaten, you are
If you dare not, you don't
If you think you can't win, and you know you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't.

For out in the world you'll find Success begins in a fellows will - for it's all in the state of mind.

For many a race has been lost
Nor even a step has been run
And many a coward has fallen
Before his works begun.

Think big, and your deeds will grow
Think small, and you'll fall behind
Think that you can, and you will -
For it's all in the state of mind.

Acknowledgments

One of the best things about working on the yearbook is the opportunity to work as a team. To produce such a book as ours required a lot of cooperative people. We wish to express our thanks to the administrators, teachers, and students who helped us complete this book.

Special thanks to Dr. Pellegrino without her dedication, patience, help, suggestions, encouragement, nothing would have gotten done.

Thanks, for letting us be a part of something very special.
